Eisenhower Backs Dulles Disapproval Of McCarthy

Prisoner Tells Of Life In Slave Camp In Siberia

Editors Note—Shinobu Higashi, former correspondent for the Japanese in Manchuria, was captured by the Russians in 1945 and was held a prisoner for more than three years. Now a member of the Associated Press staff in Tokyo, Higashi was sent to Maizuru to cover the return of 811 Japanese war prisoners. There he met a bunkmate from his captive days, "Ivan Ivanovitch" Nishio. Nishio got nickname because he was well versed in the Russian language. Here for the first time a Japanese war prisoner tells what it was like in a Siberian slave camp. . .

By SHINOBU HIGASHI

MAIZURU, Japan (AP) — I was shocked when I saw "Ivan Ivanovitch" Nishio. He had come home at last—one of 811 prisoners of war and civilians released from eight harrowing years of captivity in Siberia.

We had parted five years ago in a desolate prison camp in central Asia. I came home to freedom. He was kept behind.

Five long years of hardship were etched deeply into every feature of his once handsome face. His eyes were sunken. His face was lined from the raw cold of the Siberian winter. His jaws were set in a mold of premature old age.

Gnats In Soup

Five years ago we slept side by side on a thin straw mattress in our prison bunks. Five years ago we ate the same tasteless millet mush and the same sour prison soup from a single kettle set between us.

Now he had returned.

"In May 1949, they finally got me," he said. "I was tried and sentenced to 25 years imprisonment.

"They sent me to a prison camp near Taishet. That's the junction of the new Baikal-Amur Railway at its western end with the Trans-Siberian line.

"This was a camp for political prisoners. Our old camp in central Asia was paradise compared to it. It was one of hundreds, set at 5 to 10 kilometers (about 3 to 6 miles) distance along the Baikal-Amur Railway. Many of these were occupied by Russian political prisoners and German war criminals.

"Our work was logging. In the summer the gnats were so thick you couldn't see a foot ahead. When we ate lunch our soup would be black with dead gnats floating on the surface in a few minutes. At first we used to pick out the insects but it was hopeless. And besides we were losing too much of the precious soup. We soon were drinking soup and gnats together.

Fifty Below Zero

"The insects could bite too. We

Engravers Refuse To End Strike On New York Dailies

NEW YORK (AP)—AFL photoengravers refused today to end a strike which has closed all of New York's major newspapers.

By a vote of 289 to 47, the strikers rejected a plea by their international union chief to accept arbitration on four major issues.

NEW YORK (AP)—AFL photoengravers will vote today on whether to arbitrate the four deadlocked issues in a strike which has closed down all seven major newspapers in the city.

Publishers of six struck newspapers have agreed to arbitrate the four remaining issues, and union negotiators said they would submit the proposal to a membership meeting of Local 1 of the AFL International Photoengravers Union. Union officials have said that only the membership has authority to approve a strike settlement.

The Herald Tribune, the only major paper in the city not struck, suspended publication Monday night in sympathy with the other dailies. The Herald Tribune was not struck because its photoengraving is done by an outside commercial firm.

The issues before the striking engravers today were wages and welfare benefits, hours, the number of annual holidays and the duration of a new contract.

Members of other newspaper unions honored the picket lines of the 400 photoengravers, forcing the six newspaper to halt publication.

The struck newspapers are the Times, Daily News and Daily Mirror, all morning papers; and the World-Telegram & The Sun, Journal-American and Post, afternoon papers.

Mistake Slayer Can't Be Tried

DETROIT (AP) — Sorrowing relatives and fellow physicians will attend the funeral Thursday of Dr. Edward D. Spalding, noted Detroit heart specialist who was the victim of a bizarre shooting on a busy downtown street Monday.

Dr. Spalding was killed by a single shot in the back fired by an escaped mental patient who may never stand trial.

The ironical part of the tragedy was that Dr. Spalding was not the intended victim.

While funeral arrangements were being completed for the Harper Hospital specialist, a sanity commission was being appointed to examine 51-year-old John Sherback, held for investigation of murder.

Cell block guards said Sherback alternated between fits of anger at the medical profession and his captors and periods of silence.

Detectives say it is doubtful he will ever stand trial. If he is declared insane, he will be incarcerated "until cured," a formality.

Sherback told of hate for his intended victim, Dr. William T. McAlonan, who escaped death because Sherback douldn't remember what he looked like.

Sherback escaped from Wayne County General Hospital in 1945. Dr. McAlonan treated him at one time.

Sherback reportedly was suffering from paresis, a result of syphilis causing paralysis of the brain.

Gold Bars Found; Nobody Owns Them

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Police and U. S. Treasury agents have recovered four gleaming bars of gold bullion, but nobody seems to want to admit he lost them.

"We've got the gold but that's about all," said Paul Hart, agent in charge of the U. S. Secret Service here. The bullion was valued at $2,000.

The gold first was reported stolen from a Denver defense plant, but that theory fizzled. Officers said the bars were being peddled on the black market.

"We figure there is more to this gold business than we have been able to uncover," they said. "However, we were unable to find the owner so we won't be able to hold two suspects any longer."

Politicians Mix With McCarthy; Get Hair Mussed

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy can be relied on to muss the hair of anyone who tries to take him on in a knock-down-drag-out fight, with verbal or political weapons. He's proved it.

The Eisenhower administration has been in collision with him a number of times, thwarted him more than once, yielded to him upon occasion, but always has handled him gingerly. Up till now, anyway.

This may have been due to desire for cooperation, genuine liking for him, natural reticence, concern about being mussed up, or fear of splitting the Republican party which might follow an outright split with McCarthy.

Dulles Cautious

While the Wisconsin Republican says the administration's batting average, in a few cases, is zero, the administration can claim it's batted a thousand in one department, at least.

That's in never saying anything unpleasant about McCarthy — directly.

Yesterday Secretary of State Dulles provided a good example of this in a statement which, while unmistakably aimed at McCarthy, never mentioned him by name.

The omission was so obvious that when McCarthy read it he grinned and said: "Do you think he could have been referring to me?"

President Eisenhower himself, by saying he never dealt in personalities, has led the way in avoiding a head-on clash by any direct reference which the senator could take to mean the gloves were off and a fight was on.

Old Theme Repeated

Yet, the technique which Dulles used yesterday puts upon newspapermen who covered his news conference the burden of saying Dulles was talking about McCarthy, although Dulles was unwilling to assume the burden himself.

In his broadcast a week ago, hitting both the Democrats and the Eisenhower administration, McCarthy raised the question of how to force the Chinese Communists to release some hundreds of prisoners of war still unaccounted for.

He found the answer in a theme he has been hammering at for

Hopeful Churchill Flies To Big Three Peace Conference

TUCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda (AP) —Britain's prime minister Churchill winged over the Atlantic today to the Big Three meeting here which he hopes will be a major step toward the last big goal of his crowded 79-year-life—lasting world peace.

French Premier Laniel was expected Thursday and President Eisenhower Friday. An authoritative source reported the U.S. Chief Executive hoped to win France's ratification of the European army pact with an assurance America would maintain its present "combat effectiveness" in Europe if France okayed the army plan.

Secrecy Stressed

The most stringent security regulations in Bermuda's history were set up to guard the Big Three during their talks, which begin Friday. Troops, barbed wire and other devices ringed the conference headquarters, the Mid-Ocean here, to make it as nearly spy-proof and assassin-proof as possible.

Churchill, whose principal aim is to sell Eisenhower and Laniel the idea that Russia might now agree to a live-and-let-live policy between East and West, appeared likely to run into an American roadblock in any attmpt to concentrate initially on world problems in general.

The American reportedly plan to demand attention first to what they consider the prime question facing the free world—French ratification of the European Defense Community Treaty setting up the proposed six-nation European army, including German troops.

The source reporting Eisenhower's plan to pledg maintenance of American strength in Europe emphasized that it involved "combat effectiveness," instead of a definite number of troops.

This gave the impression that new developments, especially in the atomic field, might cause the United States to feel she could help defend Europe against possible Russian aggression with better weapons, more efficient organization and fewer men.

There was no definite indication of such plans, however.

Navy Puts Gag On Atomic News

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy is ordering its personnel not even to repeat previous public statements on atomic matters unless they are "checked in advance" with the Atomic Energy Commission.

It is circulating an ironclad interpretation of the broadly worded request by the White House recently that atomic energy comments by government officials be checked first with the AEC. The Navy order forbids even the issuance of a denial of a published report unless prior approval is obtained.

The Navy circular states that all statements must b channeled through the assistant secretary of defense for legislative and public information affairs, Fred Seaton, for clearance with the "appropriate" agency of government (the AEC), and then specifies:

"This applies to the entire field of information with regard to nuclear weapons including capabilities, characteristics, numbers, employment, distribution and storage.

"It applies to discussion, confirmation, elaboration, amplification or refutation of statements in this field which have already been made public as well as statements containing material not hitherto published."

Robbery Of Arkansas Bank Admitted By Captured Ex-Convicts

HOXIE, Ark. (AP)—Two ex-convicts, captured in a money-littered tourist cabin near here, were charged today with the armed robbery of a branch bank at Swifton, Ark.

State police Sgt. Wyatt Patrick said the pair, John E. Stanley, 26, and Andrew Jackson Rowe, 33, both of Clarendon, Ark., readily admitted the $8,500 holdup of Tuesday morning.

Arrest of the men climaxed a 13-hour search by a posse and bloodhounds through a densely wooded area of northeast Arkansas.

Patrick said Stanley had served sentences in Missouri for burglary and at Leavenworth, Kan., for interstate transportation of a stolen car. He reported that Rowe had served three terms in the Arkansas Penitentiary for burglary, one in the Arkansas Boys Industrial School for armed robbery and was released from the Oklahoma Penitentiary only three months ago after serving a robbery sentence.

Strike Shuts Down Two Big Can Plants

By WILLIAM A. SWARTWORTH

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A strike by the CIO United Steelworkers shut down the nation's two largest can manufacturers today.

The big union ordered the walkout last midnight against the American Can Co. and the Continental Can Co. after a deadlock in negotiations for new contracts.

American Can and Continental employ 33,000 USW members in 68 plants in 30 states and five plants in Canada. Of These, American operates 36 in 16 states and 1 in Canada employing about 20,000 workers. Some 13,000 other union members work in 32 plants of Continental in 14 states and 4 in Canada.

Citrus Industry Hit

The two companies employ more than 60,000 persons in all. About half of these are not affected since they are represented by other unions.

Closing of the plants will hit the citrus industry hard because it depends on tin cans to market its products. The strike also will affect the steel industry, which supplies most of the metal for cans.

Representatives of both companies met separately with union bargaining teams Tuesday and Tuesday night in a last-ditch effort to avert the walkout.

Federal mediators stood by until the final minutes waiting for a break—but none came.

Talks got under way in New York about five weeks ago and switched to Pittsburgh last week.

Offers Rejected

The union seeks a 12-cent hourly wage increase and several fringe improvements for members who now average $1.80 an hour in the United States and $1.50 in Canada.

Both companies made the same offer—a 10½-cent hourly wage package boost. Union negotiators rejected it. Eight and a half cents of the proposed boost was to be a straight raise. The remaining 2 cents was offered for improved pension and vacation benefits and adjustment of area pay differentials.

Ishpeming Election Challenge Outlawed

LANSING (AP)—An attorney general's opinion said today the time has passed for challenging a school millage election held in Ishpeming Oct. 29.

The opinion indicated that all school electors were improperly allowed to vote on the question of raising the tax levy two mills but added that under court decisions a challenge must be filed within 30 days of the election.

The opinion noted, however, that the millage increase passed by such a large margin that it would have been approved even if non-taxpayers were prevented from voting on it.

LANSING (AP)—The early winter schedule has been put into effect for state ferries at the Straits of Mackinac.

Until then, boats will leave Mackinaw City and St. Ignace at 6 a.m. daily and each hour and a half thereafter throughout the day and night.

Draft To Continue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Assistant Defense Secretary John Hannah said today the draft must continue and universal military training must be deferred for many years because of a lowered birth rate during the depression years.

Policemen Miss Gun Hidden In Brassiere

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Two Dallas detectives sheepishly admitted they failed to make a complete investigation.

The pair, J. M. Souter and G. D. Gandy, picked up a 30-year-old woman, hauled her off to jail and booked her for carrying a concealed revolver — in her coat pocket.

That was just the half of it, they admitted Tuesday.

Fifteen minutes later Jail Matron Ellie P. Eady sent down a second pistol to the desk sergeant. This one had been concealed in the prisoner's brassiere.

Unwilling Russian Won't Be Quizzed In Red Spy Hunt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate spy hunters meet today to decide what to do about questioning Igor Gouzenko. They disclosed Tuesday that the FBI reported information from the former Russian code clerk had enabled it to identify a U.S. scientist as a Soviet agent.

Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) of the Senate internal security subcommittee, indicated the group was not likely to press the issue in view of Gouzenko's reported objection to being questioned. Jenner said in an interview in Louisville, Ky., "I don't want him to testify if he feels it will endanger him and his family."

Gouzenko, who once expressed willingness to talk to the investigators, said in a copyrighted article written for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and Toronto Telegram he decided not to allow the interview, for reasons of personal and family safety. He has been living in an undisclosed place under an assumed name, with Canadian government protection.

First South Korean POWs Interviewed Choose Communism

By MILO FARNETI

PANMUNJOM (AP) — Thirty passive South Koreans unanimously chose communism in today's opening round of Allied efforts to win back 351 South Korean, British and American war prisoners who haven't returned.

The recorded strains of South Korea's national anthem played in the background as 27 men and 3 women listened quietly to ROK officers read a plea to come home. Then each walked out the door leading back to communism.

Bad Propaganda

It appeared possible the Allies drew from a stacked deck. The first group was chosen by the prisoners themselves in the Communist-dominated camp. Observers speculated each of the 30 might be a confirmed Red.

Thirty more South Koreans are to be interviewed Thursday (7 p.m. Wednesday EST).

Original plans called for 30 South Koreans to be interviewed daily for about 11 days before 22 Americans and one Briton are called, but a high American officer said the schedule is "not inflexible," indicating the non-Koreans might be called sooner.

The 30-0 score gives the Reds a propaganda theme to take some of the edge off the humiliating beating they took in their interviews. They got back less than 3 per cent of 2,500 Chinese and Koreans.

This was the first total blank.

The Communists, however, met groups from 136 to almost 500, calling a compound at a time with no chance for special groups to be maneuvered into the interview tents.

Meanwhile, in a negotiation hut nearby, the Allies all but rejected a Red proposal for a Korean peace conference after a day of studying a Communist plan offered Wednesday.

U.S. Delegate Arthur H. Dean told the Reds there are two basic points on which both sides could agree, but he accused them of attempting to slip an "enormous joker" into the conference by calling for Russia to attend as a neutral.

Dean said the two points of agreement are that the conference should be between the two belligerent sides and that each side should vote as a unit with unanimous decisions necessary.

Dean has proposed that the Russians sit in as a "third party"—neither neutral nor belligerent.

However, he said the Red plan holds a "built-in filibuster" by which the Russians—as neutrals—could tie up the conference in talk "like a vehicle with no brake, no clutch, no governor."

The negotiators meet again Thursday (8 p. m. Wednesday, CDT).

Sigler's Funeral Set For Friday

HASTINGS (AP)— Kim Sigler will be buried Friday in Hastings, his home town, with dozens of state officials in attendance, including possibly his last political opponent, Gov. Williams.

Sigler, former Michigan governor, was killed with three others Monday night when his private plane crashed into the guy wire of a television tower near Battle Creek.

His daughter, Madelon, now Mrs. Richard Gossett of Tulsa, Okla., arrived in Lansing Tuesday and said two services will be held, one in Lansing, the other here.

Gov. Williams said he would attend the services if his schedule permits.

The Lansing services will be held at 10 a.m. in the Central Methodist Church. Services will be held at 3 p.m. at Hasting's First Methodist Church. Burial will follow.

Members of the State Administrative Board and the Michigan Supreme Court planned to attend.

The State Bar of Michigan will send an official representative.

Sigler's body lay at the Leonard Funeral Home in Hastings.

Sigler's widow, convalescing from an illness, has not arrived as yet. She has been living with another daughter, Mrs. Betty Slattery of Carmel, Calif.

Federal Housing To Be Liquidated

By J. FRANK TRAGLE

WASHINGTON (AP)— Rep. Eberharter (D-Pa) said today he understands the Eisenhower administration has decided to halt the lowrent public housing program and to sell the buildings it owns.

He said liquidation of the program was urged upon the administration by the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards, which he described as "the strongest and most influential voice in the determination of housing policies under this administration." He said selling of the projects would mean that most tenants would be driven into slums.

There was no immediate comment from government housing officials.

"Under legislation passed earlier this year, no new projects could be started," Eberharter said. "That signaled the death of the public housing program, but it left unsettled the question of disposing of the remains—what to do with existing projects and those under construction.

"The decision has now been made, I understand, to liquidate the program by selling the projects to private enterprise."

Free Countries Must Be United, Says President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, backing up Secretary of State Dulles' blast at Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), declared today that unity among free nations "is our only hope for survival."

Likes Dulles, Eisenhower did not mention McCarthy by name. But the President told a news conference he is "in full accord with the statements made Tuesday by Secretary Dulles."

U. S. Prestige Hurt

Dulles had asserted that criticism such as that fired by McCarthy attacks the very heart of United States foreign policy.

Eisenhower had anticipated questioning about the matter, and announced he had prepared his views in writing because, he said, they would be the only words he would have to say on the subject.

The President then read the statement in which he declared:

"I am in full accord with the statements made yesterday by Secretary Dulles in his press conference."

Red Scare Dying

The President also took sharp issue with McCarthy on another subject—repeating that he believes the Communists in government issue will be out of the picture by the time the congressional elections occur next year.

McCarthy told a nationwide radio and television audience last week that communism would be an issue and that the question of continuing his hunt for subversives would be the main issue of the election of a Republican congress.

It was in the same speech that McCarthy took some cracks at administration foreign policy. The gist of his criticism was that this country should be tougher in dealing with its allies.

Eisenhower said that if the United States "should turn impatiently to coercion of other free nations, our brand of coercion, so far as our friends are concerned, would be a mark of the imperial-

Wisconsin Youth Top 4-H Winner

CHICAGO (AP)—A Georgia girl and a Wisconsin youth have been picked for the most prized awards in 4-H club work — the President's trophies for club achievement.

The winners, introduced at today's 4-H Club parade in the International Amphitheatre at the 32nd National 4-H Congress, are Anne Wade, 19, of Ochlochnee, Ga., and Kenyon E. Giese, 19, of Loganville, Wis.

Besides the silver trophies presented by President Eisenhower, each will receive a $300 scholarship from the Ford Motor Co. The awards will be presented at a banquet Thursday night ending the congress.

Anne has carried at least 10 projects during each of her eight years in 4-H work.

Kenyon, a junior in the University of Wisconsin College of Agriculture, was a national dairy achievement winner at the National 4-H congress in 1951. He is a public speaker, and has carried a score of projects successfully in his 10 years as a 4-H member.

New Hardware Store To Open

Norstrom Hardware, a new retail hardware store, will open in Escanaba Thursday morning at 906 Ludington Street. The establishment will be operated by Hilding Norstrom of 1209 Michigan Ave., Gladstone.

Norstrom, who has operated the Norstrom Garage, Gladstone's Chrysler-Plymouth agency, since 1937, said he decided to open a hardware store here after Delta Hardware closed its retail section recently.

"We're going to carry as complete a line of hardware as we possibly can," he said.

Norstrom Hardware will also carry sports equipment such as guns, fishing tackle, basketballs, toboggans, and archery equipment. A complete line of gardening tools will be featured, Norstrom said.

The store proper occupies about 2,125 square feet. Storage space increases this to about 3,500 square feet. Two long lines of fluorescent lights run from front to back in the sales section. Different sections of wall are painted bright yellow, blue and green.

The same Christmas hours other Escanaba stores are keeping will be observed. The store will be open until 9 Monday and Friday until Christmas week. It will then stay open until 9 every night except Christmas Eve, when an earlier closing will be observed.

The store was formerly Rich's Tea Room.

The tests will be made in the vicinity of Crisp Point 20 miles out from shore.

Meanwhile, the United States Coast Guard says, all lighted buoys in Lake Superior except those in the Duluth-Superior harbor, have been removed for the season.

At the Sault Locks, the smallest number of vessel passages since navigation got into full swing was recorded during the past 24 hours. Only four freighters locked through the American locks.

November Was Unusually Warm

Most people know that the month just past was unusually warm, U. S. Meteorologist S. E. Decker commented today, but it is unlikely, the weatherman added, that most of them realize just how much above the all-time average the temperatures were, especially during the last half of the month.

The average temperature of 39.1 was 5.2 degrees above the all-time normal, making the third warmest November since records began in 1871, 82 years ago. The only warmer Novembers were those of 1931 with an average of 41.4 and 1899 with 40.0 degrees.

The high reading of 69 on the 16th equalled the November record of 69 on Nov. 1, 1924, but coming two weeks later it set a new mark for so late in the year, Decker stated. Highs of 55 on the 18th and 19th broke the individual records for those dates. The greatest excess occurred during the period from the 13th through the 24th, during which time Escanaba temperatures were far more representative of early October, or even late September than of November, the meteorologist commented.

This was the 13th consecutive month with above normal average temperature and the fifth in succession with deficient precipitation. The total precipitation was 0.93 inch, or 1.27 inches less than normal. Three-fourths of this fell from the 20th through the 23rd.

The 0.34 inch that fell as rain on the 20th was the greatest fall in a 24-hour period, while the only snowfall of consequence, four inches on the 22nd, yielded 0.32 inch of moisture.

This precipitation ended the serious fire hazard in the forests, Decker remarked, but was insufficient to provide stream flow to boost the hydroelectric power potential. The meteorologist said the warmth caused considerable spoilage of venison during the deer season, and also helped prevent a real flight of wild fowl.

Soo Publisher Is Injured When Car Hits Grader

MARQUETTE — George A. Osborn, publisher of the Sault Ste. Marie Evening News, is a patient in St. Luke's hospital, where he will remain a day or two because of injuries he suffered yesterday afternoon when his car struck the rear end of a road grader near Michigamme.

Osborn's injuries are not serious, it was reported at the hospital today. His chest was bruised and X-ray pictures showed four cracked ribs.

Osborn was enroute from Houghton to Sault Ste. Marie when the accident occurred. As he pulled over to the left side of the highway, intending to pass the road grader, he saw a car coming in the opposite direction and when he applied his brakes his car skidded into the rear of the grader. The front end of the car was badly damaged and it was towed to a garage in L'Anse.

A Detroit man who was driving behind Osborn and saw the accident brought him to Marquette and he was taken to the hospital about 5:30 p. m.

Policeman Says Marquette Editor Twisted Facts

MARQUETTE — Controversy over reinstatement of a former Marquette patrolman erupted into a verbal blast at a newspaper editor at Monday night's City Commission meeting.

Michael Dooley, who had applied Nov. 9 for reinstatement as a member of the police force, was offered his former position with pension, vacation and sick leave rights but without seniority.

At the Nov. 9 meeting, Commissioner Lynn H. Halverson, head of the geography department at Northern Michigan College, blasted Dooley's letter asking reinstatement as "a lot of propaganda" about Police Chief Donald McCormick.

Monday night Halverson turned his attack on Robert Biolo, Marquette Mining Journal city editor, for allegedly "twisting facts" in the published story of the Nov. 9 meeting. He called it "perversion of fact" and said he had been left "a little groggy" from being "black-jacked from behind."

"A lot of commissioners in the past have suffered from this blackjack technique," he added.

The commission refused to read Dooley's letter replying to Halverson's blast. Dooley is employed by Marquette State Prison as a guard at the Tahquamenon Falls Conservation Corrections Camp.

Stolen Mail Order Blanks Are Cashed In Marinette Store

MARINETTE—Marinette police department reveals that a warrant has been issued for Jerrald R. Blanchard, 33, of 1403 Elizabeth Ave., in the theft of 110 money order blanks from the postal substation at Theriault's store, Pierce and Carney Aves.

Officers said the store was entered Nov. 24 through a window on the side of the building.

The warrant was prepared by District Attorney Harry White and signed by Richard P. Murray, circuit court commissioner. The complaint seeking the warrant for the theft of the blanks was made by Police Sergt. Vernon Laabs.

The first break in the case came Monday when some of the money orders were cashed at a local store and bank. Officers said 22 of the orders, at $100 each, were cashed.

The man named in the warrant was reported in Milwaukee, officers said, and it was also reported that an attempt to cash three money orders at a large department store there was foiled when a store detective appeared on the scene. The man fled, officers said, leaving the orders on the counter in the store.

City Requested To Save Power

The city of Escanaba and its electric power customers have been requested by the Upper Michigan Power & Light Company, which supplies power to the city, to cooperate in conserving power during the Christmas season again this year.

City Manager A. V. Aronson said the request had been made by officials of the Power Company, subsidiary of Mead Corporation, which is also the parent concern of the Escanaba Paper Company.

"At the request of the Power Company we are asking the users of electricity in Escanaba to cooperate by keeping outdoor holiday decorations to a minimum this season," said the city manager.

Unless there is cooperation, such as last year, when the peak demand during the Christmas season in Escanaba was reduced from 5,500 to 5,200 KW, there is the possibility that the Power Company will not have sufficient generating capacity to keep the Escanaba Paper Company mill operating full time. Possibly the mill might have to slow down or close during period of peak power demand in Escanaba.

"No one wants this to occur and so we are asking that outdoor holiday decorations be curtailed or eliminated again this season," said the city manager. "The cooperation was excellent last year."

The peak period in power demand occurs between 5 and 7 p. m. each day. Curtailment is essential during that two-hour period.

The critical time each year is from early December to one week past Christmas.

Under the city's contract with the Power Company, which does not expire until Aug. 1, 1959, the Company must furnish the city with power even if it requires reducing operations at the Paper Company mill. For this reason the city is attempting to find a solution to the local power shortage as soon as possible.

Car Hits Bridge At Nahma Junction

Benny Mroz of Hamtramck sustained scalp lacerations Tuesday night about 6:15 when a westbound car in which he was a passenger hit the US-2 bridge which crosses the Sturgeon River at Nahma Junction, Michigan State Police said today.

Oswald W. Hansen, Ensign Rte. 1, driver of the car, told state police lights of an oncoming car blinded him. He left the road on the north side, skidded and hit the framework of the steel bridge. The car went the length of the bridge and wound up on the north shoulder of the highway.

A private physician treated Mroz.

Cobra Venom Serum Offers Hope That Polio Cure Is Near

THE success attained thus far in the use of a preparation made from cobra venom as a potential cure for infantile paralysis constitutes the most exciting news in the field of medicine in many years.

The scientists who have been working on this project have been most cautious in their reports, emphasizing that it is much too early to say that a cure has really been found for a disease that is among the worst cripplers known to man.

Nevertheless, the early reports do indicate that there is genuine cause for optimism. The experiments were conducted for many months with monkeys which had been given heavy doses of polio virus. More recently the preparation was administered to humans suffering with polio. The results reported to fate have been startling

Unfortunately the experiments have not reached the point where the preparation can be available to all polio patients. The research is still in the experimental stage and vastly greater information must be secured before it can be stated with certainty that the preparation is really a cure for polio or, for that matter, before it can be even stated that the preparation is not in itself harmful. The indications to date are that the preparation is not harmful and that it offers potentiality as a cure for polio.

Polio incidence is on the increase in this country. Either there are more cases of infantile paralysis developing or the knowledge of polio has increased to the point that more cases are being accurately diagnosed.

Much of the research on polio has been concentrated on means of finding safe immunization. The gamma globulin tests have offered some hope in this regard but even these tests are not conclusive.

Of even greater importance is the prospect of finding a cure for the disease once it has stricken a person. If the tests now developing at the University of Miami fulfill the expectations indicated in the early period of experimentation, the achievement will be of tremendous benefit to humanity.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

This week we are introducing a new twist to our regular vocabulary test. Somewhere below you will find two groups of ten words each The first group is numbered 1, 2, 3, etc. The words in the second group are lettered A, B, C, etc.

Today's quiz is planned to help you find out how well you can identify synnonyms —words close in meaning to each other. For each word in the first group you will find a word of almost the same meaning in the second group. Thus word number I may mean the same as word lettered D. Write this down as 1D. When you have jotted down all the answers in this way, check against the correct pairing at the bottom.

Each correct pairing scores 1 point for you. So a perfect score would be 10; 8 fair; below 8—better start using your dictionary more regularly. Here are the word lists!

1. Obnoxious	A. Gruesome
2. Distinction	B. Nicety
3. Ghastly	C. Molecule
4. Whit	D. Loquacious
5. Verbose	E. Repellent
6. Taciturn	F. Uncommunicative
7. Jealous	G. Coincidental
8. Wayward	H. Disdainful
9. Contemptuous	I. Undutiful
10. Simultaneous	J. Envious

Answers, with pronunciations of each word, are:

1E. (ob-NOK-shus) (reh-PEL-unt)
2B. (dis-TINK-sh'n) (NICE-uh-tee)
3A. (GAST-lee) (GROO-sum)
4C. (HYIT (MOL-uh-kyool)
5D. (ver-BOHSS) (loh-KWAY-shus)
6F. (TASS-ih-tern) (un-kuh-MYOO-nih-kay-tiv)
7J. (JEL-us) (En-vee-us)
8I (WAY-werd (un-DYOO-tif-'l)
9H. (kun-TEMPT-yoo-us) (dis-DAYN-ful)
10G. (sy-mul-TAY-nee-us) (koh-in-sih-DEN-tal)

Nehru's Attitude On Korea Is Puzzling

PRIME Minister Nehru of India says that if no Korean political conference is held, the whole subject of prisoner repatriation should be referred back to the Communist and United Nations high commands.

This is a very puzzling attitude. It almost suggests that Nehru has forgotten the terms of the truce, which are explicit on this point. Here is what the agreement was on the prisoner issue:

It set aside a 90-day period during which homeland authorities could try to persuade reluctant prisoners to come home.

It decreed that, hereafter, a political conference could consider their fate for a period of 30 days.

But at the end of 120 days, unless such a conference should have made other disposition of their case, the prisoners who still refuse repatriation must be released to civilian status and allowed to go free.

In other words, the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission, headed by India, is not empowered to keep these prisoners any longer in custody, nor to refer their future status back to the respective high commands.

The purpose of these explicit terms is plain. The UN negotiators wished to make it certain the Communists could not, by dragging out the prisoner explanations or a political conference, insure the indefinite captivity of men who have shown beyond all reasonable doubt their desire for freedom.

The 90-day deadline, incidentally, is Dec. 23. Thirty days from that date all unrepatriated prisoners in Allied hands must be assured of their right to walk out of the prisoner stockades.

What aim Nehru had in proposing that this specific machinery for prisoner processing be set aside is difficult to fathom.

His own troops are doing a creditable job in managing the processing during the explanation period. It seems clear their leaders are thoroughly disenchanted with Communist officials, and fed up with the deliberate delays they imposed. In the light of their experience at Panmunjom, one can hardly imagine that Nehru feels there is some doubt about the fairness of the processing procedure.

If he has any sound reason for his statement, he ought to disclose it. In the absence of such support, his remarks sound like vague expressions of sympathy for the Asiatic Communist cause.

Gas Used To Color Oranges Not Harmful To Humans

By EDWIN P JORDAN, M D. — Written for NEA Service

It is naturally important that we should not be poisoned by the fod we eat, and today's first letter bears on one aspect of that problem.

Q—I hear that most oranges on the market are treated with ethylene gas to turn the green ones the proper shade of orange to attract he housewife. Since many cooks use the skins in desserts for flavoring or for other purposes, is there not some danger of lead poisoning? Mrs. T.

A—It is probable that Mrs. T. is confused between ethylene gas and tetraethyl lead. It is the former—ethylene gas—which is used to bring about the color change in oranges and other fruits to which Mrs. T. refers, and this preparation does not contain lead and therefore there is no danger of lead poisoning from it .I understand the ethylene is usually introduced from a cylinder, but that it could not remain on the oranges long, and there is almost certainly no danger of poisoning from this source.

* * *

Q—We have heard that if a man is operated on for hernia, it will cause him to become sterile. Is this true? Mrs. S.

A—It is not true unless some accident occurred at the time of the operation. This kind of accident is extremely rare.

Q—I have a sebacious cyst in my breast and lately it has been a little sore and painful. Should this be removed?

Mrs. G. E.

A—Ordinarily it would be considered desirable to remove this surgically unless the doctor has some specific reason for not doing so.

* * *

Q—I have intense itching under the arms and in the groin, and any other place where there is moisture on the skin. I am now using an ointment which takes the skin off, but doesn't stop the itch. Have you any suggestions? Mrs. J. A.

A—First, stop the ointment which takes off the skin, but doesn't relieve the itch. Next, go to a physician or skin specialist who can tell you whether the cause is ringworm or something else, and get from him the proper medication which will relieve you without causing a possibly dangerous irritation of the skin.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Life in the American embassy in Moscow is no bed of roses for our diplomatic and military personnel stationed there. Here's a capsule picture of some of their problems:

Prices—A dessert ice-cream cake for six people costs $10. A five-pound roast of beef is $15. Oranges, pears, and melons are usually well above $1 apiece, and even then are hard to get . . . . as a result of shortages and high prices, 90 per cent of the food consumed by Americans in Moscow comes out of U. S. tin cans. The embassy even drinks powdered milk to avoid Moscow's unpasteurized milk and uninspected cows . . . . Russian citizens working around the embassy plead for small quantities of powdered milk. Russian maids employed by U. S. diplomats receive $200 per month. But a pair of Russian-made shoes costs the maids $175.

Personalities—Ambassador Chip Bohlen is as popular with the embassy staff as he's unpopular with the Russians. "The Commies are scared to death of Chip," says one embassy staff member. "He knows them so well they actually think he can read their minds." . . . . one of Bohlen's chief headaches is keeping peace between the diplomatic and military personnel stationed in Moscow. There's constant friction between the two groups. The U. S. military clique complains that the diplomats "hog" everything and look down their State Department noses at military colleagues. Diplomats counter by claiming the boys in uniform "don't have any idea what the score is."

Protection—"All the men at the embassy are under 24-hour surveillance by the Russian Secret Police. But the embassy wives usually travel around Moscow "unattended." As a result, most of the women folks have a better idea than their husbands of what the average Russian in the street is thinking . . . . all Russian servants employed at the embassy work for the Secret Police. One of the maids, Dora, has been employed at the embassy so long that she first met Ambassador Bohlen when he was a lowly third secretary. Dora reports regularly to the Secret Police but she's kept on at the embassy because any replacement would also be required to report to the police . . . . recently one Russian maid asked her U. S. employer for permission to leave the house for a half hour. "I'll be right back," she explained, "I just have to go down to the police station to report on you." . . . . the Russians have planted secret microphones in the homes of all embassy personnel. They're usually referred to as either "George" or "Junior." A visitor leaving Russia with a copy of a Soviet encyclopedia is always halted at the border by customs officers who seize the book, tear out the three pages devoted to praise of Marshal Beria, then return it as OK to leave Soviet Russia.

VISHINSKY'S GOLD

Foreign Minister Vishinsky made a speech at the United Nations last week that was crowded out by the spy stories, but was highly significant nevertheless.

Vishinsky denounced the United States for blocking an increase in the price of gold, went on to accuse the United States of hurting Australia, Canada, and South Africa, because their economy depends on the sale of gold.

Though largely ignored by American press associations, the speech was pounded out over the Russian radio, also published in the British Dominions. It was one of the cleverest speeches Vishinsky could have made. Behind it were two motives:

1. Divide the United States from our best friends in the British Dominions.

2. Secure an increase in the price of gold which would be a godsend to Russia because of its surplus gold stocks. Russia wants the price upped from $35 to $50 an ounce, thereby giving the Kremlin a chance to increase its purchase of consumer goods abroad.

This wide-scale purchase of consumer goods, including such things as butter from Scandinavia, is one of the most significant developments inside Russia. It means that the Kremlin is trying to pacify the restless Russian people by giving them less of a military burden and more consumer benefits—at least temporarily.

Note—Vishinsky's denunciation of the United States over the price of South African gold almost matched his denunciation of Premier Malan of South Africa for his suppression of South African Negroes.

Escanaba—Approximately 150 students are now enrolled in the Escanaba Vocational School. Not all of the necessary motor equipment has arrived and training will not get fully underway until it does.

Manistique—An arrest and confession is believed to have put an end to an annoying series of gasoline thefts. Thieving of this nature has been prevalent for months as gasoline has been hard to get because of rationing.

Gladstone—Susan Kay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ebbeson, had a party on the occasion of her birthday anniversary.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—About 250 CWA employes attended a mass meeting here last night to protest the 40 cents an hour pay rate. A raise to 50 cents an hour was demanded.

Escanaba—Former auditor general, O. B. Fuller, in response to an inquiry by the Chamber of Commerce relative future relief projects, suggested the development of water power on the Escanaba and other rivers of the area.

All Dressed Up and No Place to Go

Cat In The Face, Fish Massage; Shatter Happiness Of Marriage

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

The path of true love can be pretty bumpy at times, but it is positively smooth compared to the path of true hate. When two lovebirds turn into battling bantams, it's every man (and woman) for himself.

Consider the grounds for divorce that turned up in divorce courts in 1953. It's a perfect example of man's inhumanity to woman, and vice versa.

Let's start with Mrs. Doris Lindsay of Boston, who had a pretty good reason to want a divorce. It seemed, she told the judge, that her husband hit her in the face with a cat, rubbed her face with a fish and locked her in the pantry with a mouse.

Less direct, but equally emphatic, was Mrs. Benjamin D. Brown. Her husband, Pvt. Brown, told the judge in Detroit about a letter he got from her after he was wounded in Korea. It read, in part, "I'm sorry that your wound was only slight."

Animals play a big part in divorces. In Los Angeles, Walter Sprinkel got a divorce when he told the judge his wife insisted on taking her cats to bed with her. But the cat was on the other foot in Detroit, where Mrs. Retha Drenning said that her husband took the cat to bed with him. To compound the feliney, when the cat bit her on the foot, Drenning forced her to apologize to the cat.

"I thought that was unreasonable," Mrs. Drenning said.

It was a dog that shattered the marital bliss of the Boos. Mrs. Goldie Boo, of St. Petersburg, Fla., said that her husband insisted on having Tootsie, the little Boo pup, sit at the breakfast table and lap up his coffee.

And another type of living thing sent Cupid scurrying for his life from the Kenneth Norton household in Detroit. Mrs. Norton said that her husband spent all his paycheck on food for his 10,000 earthworms.

Sometimes these things reach the violent stage. In Los Angeles, after she had filed and later dropped divorce actions in 1942, 1943, 1944, 1945, 1946, 1947, 1950 and 1952, Mrs. Harry Harshman filed another one. Her husband, she said, struck her, knocked out her teeth, scratched her, kicked her —and also threatened to kill her.

London policeman James Goss got his divorce when he told how his little woman kicked him, bit him, threw a poker at him, broke a pot over his head and stuck a knife in his back.

In Houston, Merrick Gillory was a little apprehensive when he noticed that his wife went to bed with a butcher knife tucked handily beneath her pillow. Gillory said he couldn't sleep. He got his divorce.

* * *

Cruelty often assumed strange shapes. In Miami, Mrs. Doris Denio sued for divorce because her husband dyed his hair green. Denio is an entertainer, but his wife said that green hair, no matter what the excuse, doesn't contribute to the peace and happiness of a marriage.

A Chicago wife got a divorce because she swiped her husband's toupee. After Mrs. Helen Lucas took it— as a precaution so he wouldn't date another woman—her husband beat her when she wouldn't tell him where she hid it.

Also in the Windy City one marriage had a close shave — then lost. Mrs. Frank Brown told the judge that her husband forced her to shave him every day for 13 years.

Husbands' laziness was frequently cited as grounds for divorce. Mrs. Erma Gentle of Denver said her husband exercised so much with barbells he was too exhausted for anything else. Mrs. Willie Ann Dottore of Detroit said her husband wouldn't put up the screens, claiming "that was a job for peasants."

And Mrs. Bessie Sigel of Paterson, N. J., said her husband made her serve him his meals, cut into bite-size morsels, as he reclined on the couch.

* * *

In Lincoln, Neb., the "bowling widower" got justice. The bowling enthusiasm of Mrs. Geraldine Schwarting was blamed for the marriage bzreak-up. Her husband said she bowled Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Sunday nights and Sunday afternoons. She bowled to relax from her job. Her job was a bowling promoter.

Among the oldest couples to split were the Kochs of Golden, Colo. Mrs. Marie Koch, 80, wno a divorce by testifying that her 80-year-old husband let her lie without help for four months after she fell from stairs.

"Those things add up," she said.

And probably the shortest-lived marriage to end in 1953 was that of the Hughletts of Detroit. Mrs. Lillian Hughlett won her divorce when she told how her marriage went sour a few hours after they were united. It happened as they began their honeymoon and stopped to eat.

Her husband wouldn't let her put lemon in her tea. Divorce granted.

The Story Behind Stomach Aches

ANN ARBOR—Got a stomach-ache? Here's the story.

Dr. William Rottschaefer, U-M senior clinical instructor in surgery, says that it's no laughing matter.

"A child's tummy-ache, especially, is a very real problem," says Dr. Rottschaefer.

First of all, a stomach-ache covers a pretty broad area of abdominal organs, such as the stomach, small intestines, large intestine, liver, gall bladder, bile ducts, spleen, pancreas and appendix.

Scolding Hurts Too

And as if that weren't enough, there are the so-called "referred pains," those connected with pneumonia, pleurisy, and inflammations of the pericardial sac (which is the lining of the cavity where the heart is located).

Dr. Rottschaefer lists several possible causes of abdominal pain: contamination by bacteria; appendicitis; blood disturbances; injuries; inflammation; poison; and aches caused by the nervous system.

Even a misplaced gesture of a scolding may enter the stomach via a child's emotions, causing a tummy-ache.

Don't Belittle It

All in all, the doctor says, "The child's stomach-ache may truly be a hard puzzle to solve."

Don't belittle the stomach- ache. If junior complains of one at the supper table, and doesn't want to eat, don't insist on his finishing the meal.

"Any severe abdominal pain that lasts longer than six hours usually indicates some condition in the abdomen of surgical significance," warns Dr. Rottschaefer.

Above all, lay off the castor oil. It merely adds an irritant to an already irritated stomach.

GIFT AND GIVER—There are only 19 more shopping days until Christmas. This requires the conscientious gift-buyer to apply himself immediately to the chore ahead of him—or her.

Mostly her, according to my observation, because few males have the patience to look for just the right item for the proposed recipient of Santa's generosity.

Women have a knack for these things. They someho wknow, perhaps by intuition, that Aunt Agatha does not care for dark stockings, Uncle Fudley has given up smoking a pipe, and Grandma still wears woolen underwear.

Therefore they are prepared to enter into the spirit of shopping, which means making the rounds of the stores looking for a gift that is "just right." On the other hand, men are either too lazy or indifferent to continue the search for long.

* * *

GENTLE SPIRIT—Most men who are forced into doing the Christmas shopping end their tour with an unwise selection of gifts They are also short of temper and snapping right and left like an ill-tempered dog.

Shop clerks tell me that men are invariably good-natured and easier to satisfy than women shoppers.

They come to this conclusion because men do little shopping and clerks frighten them into temporary politeness. When the men return home, however, they exhibit more un-Christmas grumpiness than the season deserves.

Because of their feeling of insecurity while shopping, men are inclined to accept the first item they see. They have little preference in size or color or shape. Easy to please? No, just anxious to get the buying trip over with as soon as possible.

* * *

THE HELPLESS ONES — But clerks have a difficult time with the completely helpless male who comes in and throws himself on the mercy of the clerk.

"I need something for my nephew," he says. "A Christmas present."

The clerk takes up at that point and begins the process of inquisition. How old is the nephew? Does he like football, baseball, skiing, skating, ping pong? Does he play the violin, drums, poker or parchesi?

If Uncle Fudley is thinking of wearing apparel for nephew, the clerk must determine the boy's approximate physical dimensions. She would also like to know the color of his hair and eyes.

Uncle is relatively vague concerning the whole deal. He either doesn't know the answers or he is determined to let the clerk work for her money on this one.

* * *

KNOW WHAT THEY WANT—Most women know what they want when they start shopping. Many of them have a prepared shopping list to consult as a guide.

This is a help to them and to the clerk, since they ask for a specific item, look it over, inquire about the price, and either make the purchase or not.

But the shop clerks know also that certain women—usually with plenty of time on their hands—like to look. "I'm just looking," they say.

As soon as the clerk's back is turned to wait on a customer who knows what she wants the lady who is "just looking" becomes aggressiveily impatient. "Clerk," says she peremptorily, "come here! You were waiting on me, you know."

It is such an experience that makes a clerk wish she had a nice quiet job like testing dynamite in an explosives factory.

* * *

THE CHATTY SOUL—Another customer type is the lady who has a lot of time and a strong inclination for a confidential little chat with the clerk.

"It's for my sister," she says. "She has such a lovely house in Pasadena and those children of hers, well, they have just everything. Too much, I always say. Her husband is in the insurance business and they always send me a gift every year so I decided this year it would have to be something really special—What do you suggest?"

"A small Cadillac," the clerk would like to retort, but doesn't. So the lady buys a lazy susan made of redwood—"they have redwoods in California, you know."

So from now to Christmas it will be a procession in and out of the stores of reluctant men, chatty women, efficient shoppers and those who are looking for something they just can't find anywhere.

The clerks will advise, counsel, recommend and even sell with the opportunity to return the item for exchange after Christmas; they will smile while their arches fall and their lordosis goes into a slump.

There is no one more pleased than a shop clerk when Christmas finally arrives and they can go home and take off their shoes while they wait for Santa.

Make Holidays Gay With Apples

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Make the most of apples at holiday time. Such a crisp, crunchy, comfortable fruit!

Serve apples our top - favorite way when guests drop in — or for just the family. Shine the rosy red fruit until it gleams, place it on a lazy susan or a tray and offer it with Basic Roquefort Spread or Dip.

To make the Roquefort accompaniment we allow a quarter to a half pound of Roquefort and a half pound of cream cheese to stand at room temperature to soften. Next we work them together with a wooden spoon and then force through a fine sieve to make smooth. After that we thin with cream or mayonnaise—the amount depends on whether we are making a spread or a dip—and add dashes of Worcestershire sauce and celery salt. We serve our best fruit knives with the apples and let everyone cut his own slices to spread or dip into the luscious Roquefort mixture. Our eaters are always mad about this combination! We think yours will be, too.

Another delicious way to use apples is to put them in a relish, ladle it into small jars, decorate gaily and pack into Christmas boxes for your best friends. Make the relish now and give it time to set so you'll have time to sit during the holiday rush!

APPLE RELISH

Ingredients: 4 cups prepared apples (about 3 pounds ripe apples), 7 cups sugar, ½ cup vinegar, ½ cup finely chopped nut meats, ½ cup seedless raisins (rinsed in hot water and drained), ½ bottle liquid fruit pectin.

Method: First, prepare the apples: Core and grind about 3 pounds fully ripe apples. Measure 4 cups into a very large saucepan. Then make the relish: Add sugar, vinegar, nuts, and raisins to fruit in saucepan; mix well. Place over high heat; bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in liquid fruit pectin. Skim off foam with metal spoon; then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into hot sterilized glasses; cover relish at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin. Makes 11 medium glasses.

Tankers Arrive To End Shipping

The arrival of one oil tanker today, a second tomorrow and possibly a third tanker on Sunday will mark the close here of the 1953 Great Lakes traffic.

Shell OOl Company's new terminal at Wells today was receiving approximately 18,000 barrels of gasoline from the tanker Martha Allen, the last of about 10 boats to unload there this season.

At the close of the first season's operations the new Shell terminal has its seven-million-gallon storage facilities filled to capacity.

Tomorrow the tanker Orion will arrive at the Theisen-Clemens Company terminal at Kipling to discharge about 10,000 barrels of gasoline. The storage facilities there total five and one-half million gallons.

Possibly a second tanker will dock at the Theisen-Clemens terminal Sunday, marking the end of the shipping season in this area.

The U. S. Coast Guard's lighthouse tender is expected to be in northern Green Bay within the next couple days. Buoys and other aids to navigation will be picked up for the winter, and the crew of the Minneapolis Shoal lighthouse will be brought to Escanaba and the light closed.

Politicians Mixing With McCarthy Get Hair Mussed

months. He suggested this country's allies should end all trade with Red China and said this country should end aid to any ally which didn't.

"Are we going to continue to send perfumed notes, following the style of the Truman-Acheson regime?" he asked.

Approved By President

In his statement Dulles made it clear he was replying to McCarthy's criticism, for he said:

"Since . . . last week there has been a widely publicized criticism of this administration's foreign policy . . . that we spoke too kindly to our allies and sent them 'perfumed' notes . . . The criticism I refer to attacks the very heart of United States foreign policy."

Dulles left no doubt this statement was a deliberate one. He said it had the approval of the President. It had been written and mimeographed before he went to the news conference. He repeated it for movie and television cameras.

Whatever it is that inhibits Dulles—where McCarthy's name is concerned—the senator isn't bothered by it. He's a lot more direct about Dulles than Dulles is about him.

Mrs. Burnham Dies After Long Illness

Mrs. Beatrice Burnham, a former resident of Escanaba, died at her home, 2477 Gunnison, in Chicago, Nov. 25 after a long illness, it was learned today.

She was born in Escanaba Aug. 15, 1891, and was educated in the public schools here. She went to Milwaukee about 40 years ago and worked there a number of years before going to Chicago. Her marriage to Lawrence Burnham who preceded her in death took place in Chicago.

She is survived by the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Elmer Bergman, Waukegan, Helen O'Donnell, Chicago, John O'Donnell, Great Falls, Mont., James, Escanaba, Patrick, Highland Park, and Clarence, Chicago.

Services were held at St. Mathias Church and burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bergman, Don, Margie and Charlotte Bergman of Waukegan and Patrick and Mary O'Connell of Highland Park Mich., attended the rites.

Escanaba Legion Post Will Pack Baskets

William Butler, Commander of Cloverland Post 82, American Legion, announced today that the Escanaba Legion will again prepare and deliver Christmas baskets to families of disabled and distressed veterans in the Escanaba area.

"For the past 22 years our Legion Post has delivered Christmas baskets to the families of our comrades who are in distress," said Commander Butler. "We gladly accept this responsibility, and this year we will again arrange for distribution of this holiday happiness in the form of baskets with food."

Commander Butler has appointed C. Elmer Olson as general chairman in charge of the holiday basket project and other committee appointments are to be announced shortly.

Free Countries Need Unity Now, Eisenhower Says

ist rather than of the leader."

He said American military and economic aid was a part of this country's own security program and added:

"We do this because unity among free nations is our only hope for survival in the face of the world-wide Soviet conspiracy backed by the weight of Soviet military power.

"This struggle dominates all other considerations of our times."

Eisenhower repeated his view—first expressed off-hand at an earlier news conference — that the Communist - in - government issue will not figure importantly in the 1954 congressional campaign.

He said "The best way to keep subversives out of the government is not to employ them in the first place."

Dulles refused to say he was talking about McCarthy, but he used some of the senator's own words and thus left no doubt as to his target.

McCarthy contented himslf with quizzical: "Do you think he could have been referring to me?"

Administration Rapped

He reserved further comment because, he said, he wanted to study Dulles' statement.

McCarthy, in his speech, had asked whether the administration would send "perfumed notes" to the Communists in Korea about prisoners who remain unaccounted for. And he had said that in some security matters the administration was "batting zero."

Dulles blasted at "arrogant" methods of dealing with U. S. allies. He said John Paton Davies, whose continued employment by the Eisenhower administration was criticized by McCarthy, was undergoing a new security investigation to be completed in a month.

But the secretary of state left otherwise unanswered McCarthy's expressed fear that "my party might also fall victim to the same evil which beset the Democratic party." McCarthy said that was failure to root Communists out of government.

TAX RAISE DOUBTFUL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he doubts whether taxes next year can or should be raised above the present level.

Eisenhower made the statement in reply to questions at a news conference at which he also supported Secretary of State Dulles in statements Dulles issued Tuesday in criticism of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) in the field of foreign policy.

On the big domestic problem of taxes and government finances generally, Eisenhower said that what the administration can do to bring the budget near to balance is to eliminate duplication and improve efficiency generally.

Leaves For Bermuda

He said his officials are taking a number of steps toward this end and added he is prepared to take credit in advance for them.

Eisenhower also:

1. Declined to speculate on the prospects for a meeting of Western powers with representatives of the Soviet Union. Asked about such prospects on the basis of the latest Russian note, the President replied it is a matter which needs much study and one on which he wouldn't want to make a real guess.

2. Said that under prevailing circumstances the question of whether Communist China should be admitted to the United Nations is not open to negotiations anywhere. That was in reply to a question whether the matter might be discussed at the Big Three Bermuda conference opening Friday. He said he would leave for Bermuda at 7 a. m. CST Friday.

3. Voiced complete confidence in Atty. Gen. Brownell, and announced that the Justice Department plans to make public, possibly later in the day, a complete report on what Eisenhower termed events in the outlying cities.

Headlines Noticed

Clayton Fritchey, deputy chairman of the Democratic National Committee, has contended communism - in - government charges against the Truman administration were brought up by Brownell an effort to divert attention from his own department.

Eisenhower said he had noticed headlines in the newspapers on a certain matter. Whipping out his horn rimmed glasses, the President said he had prepared a written statement on that matter and would have nothing more to say about it.

He drew a round of laughter in the crowded conference room by telling reporters they could make any use of the statement they cared to.

Then he went on to read his statement dealing with foreign policy issus raised by McCarthy.

Pick Jury Today In Headlighting Case

A jury was scheduled to be selected this afternoon for the jury trial Thursday morning in Gladstone justice court of Maynard Rossow of Days River and Albert Nelson of Stonington on a charge of using artificial light in an attempt to take and kill a deer.

The trial is set for 10 a. m. in the court of Judge A. Theodore Sohlberg.

County Prosecutor Nicholas Chapekis has disqualified himself from presenting the case for the people, he said this morning, because he has represented one of the defendants in the past. Chapekis said another attorney, whose name he did not know yet, would present the people's case.

A conservation officer arrested Rossow and Nelson in mid-November on the Stonington Peninsula.

wore nets while we worked, but if there was a small tear in the netting the gnats would get in and a man's face would change shape completely in a matter of minutes, from the bites.

"In the winter it was utterly cold. Almost every day we worked in weather 45 to 50 degrees below zero centigrade (down to 58 below Fahrenheit).

"Many of us died.

"Our food was unmilled rye, cold dried herring, tough as leather, and dehydrated carrots. We were forever hungry. When we got to work we peeled off the bark of pipe trees and ate the inside lining

The guards were brutal.

"We could not talk, smoke, fall out of step, pick up anything from the ground or change ranks in our march to work—over difficult corduroy roads for distances of five to six miles.

"There was no medicine, no doctors. Once you got sick you were as good as dead. You had to go to work just the same."

Ivan Ivanovitch looked at me and smiled wanly: "You sure were lucky to get back when you did."

Punch Bowl Spreads Yule Cheer

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

THIS SHOULD be an old-fashioned Christmas. And you don't need woolie bears, fallen acorns or the Farmer's Almanac to back up the statement. All you have to do is note the record sale of punch bowls this season, says table setting designer Carole Stupell.

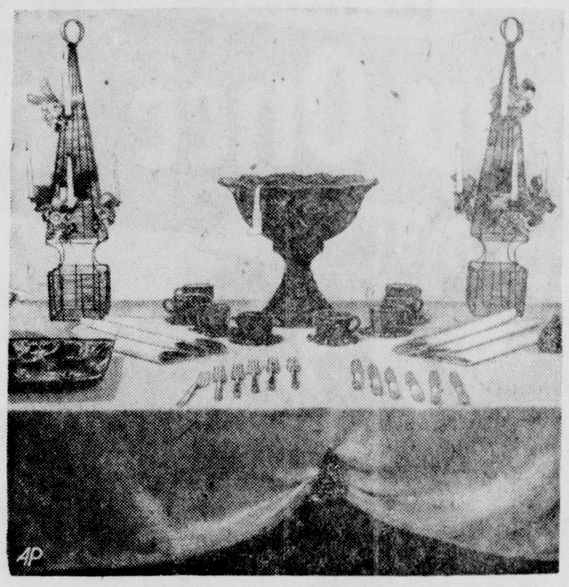

Miss Stupell who purveys everything that the average hostess needs for table entertaining at her New York establishment, says:

"The mad rush for punch bowls has taken me completely by surprise. As a matter of fact everything for buffet-type entertaining — serving carts, food warmers, ice buckets — are in great demand. And there is a big trend, too, for true Christmas green and red table accessories."

The trend to buffet serving has been steadily on the upswing, but seems to be reaching a peak this Yuletide, she says. All sorts of parties have been thought up to justify simple service. The most recent rage is the Sukiyaki party, according to Miss Stupell, who has even had special dishes of Oriental lacquer designed for these occasionals.

If you want to be in the traditional mood this Christmas season you'll need to set an attractive buffet table with a charming and lovely centerpiece. And, of course, a punchbowl — either grandma's or a new one.

Your centerpiece should be in the spirit of the season. Miss Stupell suggests using a small collection of animals, angels, choir figures or creche figures for table sparkle. Crushed imitation snow may be scattered over the table and any of these figurines placed on them. Small twigs may be put in modeling clay and sprayed with "snow" for a charming winter scene. Or place the little angels on angel hair scattered over the table.

THE OLD-FASHIONED punch bowl is back in all its grandeur. This one is green and is flanked by handsome wrought iron pyramids to which candles are clipped. Designed by Carole Stupell.

Miss Stupell is partial to angels, making an unusual centerpiece out of an angel collection of doctors, skiers, golfers, stock broker and radio announcer angels.

Use a table cloth in a traditional red or green, in a filmy material for greater effect. Drape the hem and tack it at intervals around the table with corsages, Christmas ornaments, bells, mistletoe, holly, etc. for a charming fillip.

Ontonagon Bank Head Indicted

ONTONAGON (AP) — A secret indictment against a former Ontonagon bank president was disclosed Monday.

The disclosure came with the arraignment before a U. S. court commissioner of Laurence E. Chabot, former president of the First National Bank.

Chabot, a longtime and respected resident here, was charged on eight counts, including misapplication of bank funds and embezzlement of 10 shares of bank stock. No amounts were mentioned.

The FBI said the indictment was returned in secret by a federal grand jury in Grand Rapids Nov. 17.

Chabot, held in $10,000 bond, was remanded to the custody of a U. S. marshal. He is expected to be brought before the next term of Federal Court in Marquette or Grand Rapids.

Chabot resigned as president of the bank several months ago. Recently, he was a patient at the state hospital at Newberry.

Chabot also was charged with making a false statement to the Veterans Administration in the sale of a farm to a serviceman. He allegedly said the farm was encumbered only by a first mortgage when actually it bore a second mortgage.

Chabot's arraignment had an ironic twist. Confronting him from the bench was an old friend, Commissioner Lawrence P. Walsh.

Farmers whose fields are ravaged by insects buy the ladybugs for $10 per gallon. The ladybugs destroy thrips, aphides and other plant marauders.

Hang On To Your Soap And Elbow Grease--Science Hasn't Outmoded Housecleaning Yet

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

CHICAGO—(NEA)—Is housecleaning becoming obsolete?

Thanks to the wonders of science, new machines designed to keep a home automatically cleaner, as well as healthier and more comfortable, make us wonder if the dust rag is headed for the curio cabinet.

Air conditioning built into many homes (this is the year the lucky home buyer can get a moderately priced, three - bedroom home completely air conditioned) means more comfort, winter and summer, and less dust and soot sifting in through cracks. With "weather-maker" units, we can bask in draftless warmth, worrying not a bit about sooty windowsills or dirt-smudged walls.

Science Has Limits

And have you heard about electrostatic air cleaners? These are mechanical filters which can be built into the cold-air return duct of the furnace or be used in portable console models. They trap fine dust, pollen and sneezed droplets. Germicidal solutions destroy bacteria.

But science has its limits. Although I envy my neighbor her new air-conditioned home which she says has cut her routine housework in half, soap and water and a strong right arm are still the homemaker's most valuable servants when it comes to keeping the cabin shining.

I have yet to find a mechanical device to trap snow-laden boots before they track across the kitchen floor. The most brilliant scientist hasn't discovered a way to repel sticky fingers from the woodwork or mud from shoes scraped over the carpet.

Washable furnishings deserve their ever - widening popularity. If you can't dunk a washable in the machine, you can clean it on the spot with a damp sponge dipped in "dry" soapsuds.

I've been told by manufacturers that we take the "washable" label on upholstered furniture too literally. Nylon coverings, they cite, as an example, are washable, but the cushion filling isn't, so don't water-log the chair when you're sponging off a spot. Use as little water as you can and depend on fluffy suds to take up the soil. A damp cloth will remove excess soap.

Washing Lamp Shades

Youp can get into trouble washing fabric lamp shades, too, as I found out to my sorrow. Unless you know the frame is rust-resistant, don't lower them into a tub of water. Instead, I now doors in front of an electric fan put them on a towel and work quickly with a soapy sponge, rinse off the soap with a damp sponge and tie them on a clothesline outdoors in the wind or into dry them fast.

Even in the newest, dust-tight home, wood table tops and drawer fronts are subject to smudges left by food and fingers. A cloth wrung out in warm, soapy water is my best aid in routing such disfiguring marks. But I am careful to dry the area and follow up with polish even on painted furniture.

Science has sealed this lovely living room against dirt sifting in through windows, but soapsuds and water are still needed to keep the honey-beige carpeting free of tracked-in dirt.

Alligator Wrestler Gets Caught In Jaws

DANIA, Fla. (AP)—An alligator wrestler was badly mangled Monday when he stuck his head in a gator's mouth and the animal clamped his jaws shut.

William McLellan, 20, of nearby Hollywood, threshed wildly as the alligator rolled over and dragged him about. Fifty spectators screamed in horror.

Orman Dennis, master of ceremonies at the Dania Chimpanzee Farm, and William's younger brother James, 17, leaped into the pit and pried open the gator's jaws.

Sixty stitches were taken in McLellan's face and neck.

Spain's Franco To Be Ally Against Reds, Sen. Byrd Declares

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) said that "it looks as if we can depend on Gen. Franco," the Spanish leader, as an ally against communism.

Byrd, made the comment to newsmen as he returned aboard the liner United States from a three weeks study of overseas trade and defenses.

Byrd, who toured Air Force bases in Spain, Italy, France, Greece, Turkey and Germany, said:

"I am very much impressed by the progress of the process of establishing 150 bases overseas and I am especially pleased with the progress in Spain. It looks as if we can depend on Gen. Franco. The value of bases depends upon the stability of government, to some extent."

'Twas the day before Christmas

A deep snow had blanketed the streets of Ironwood. Indoors, families were making plans for the festive season. The telephone company, too, was making its preparations for the busiest night of the year.

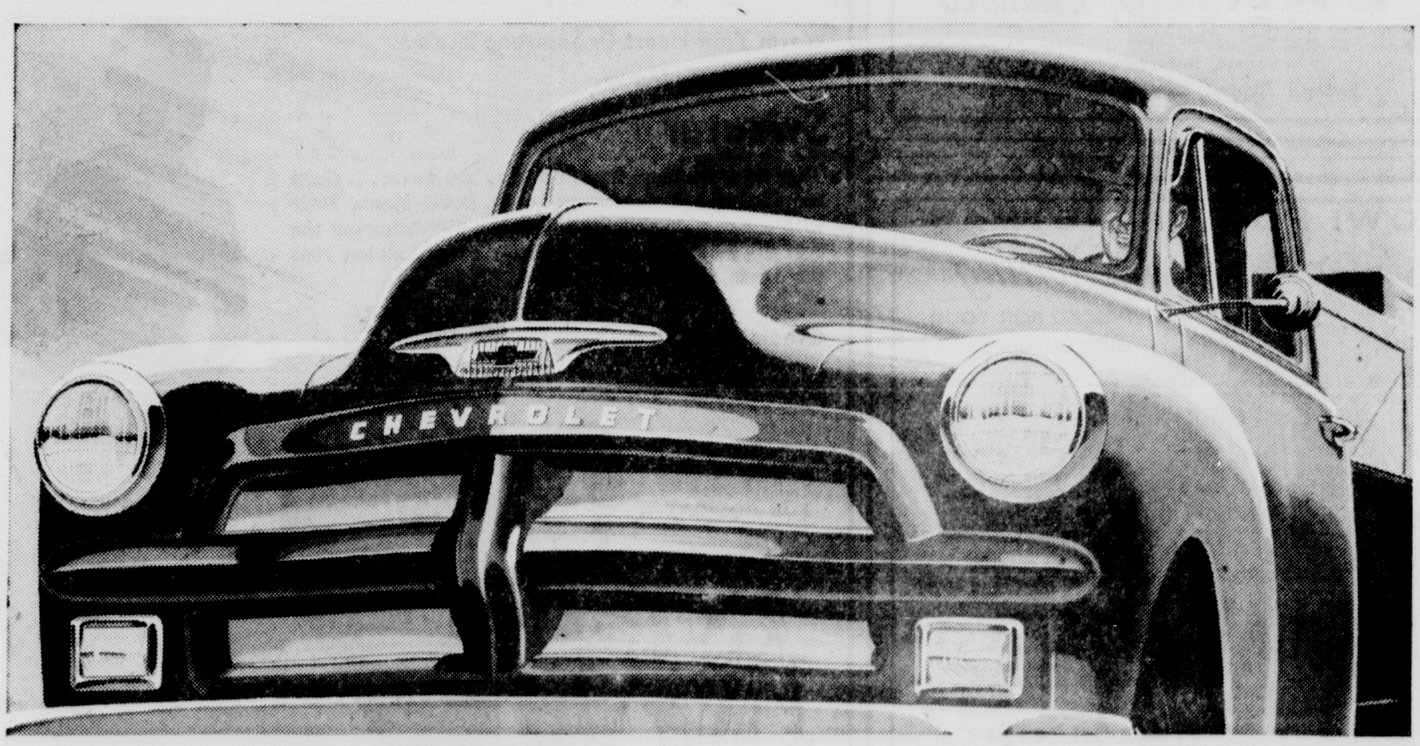

That was when Mr. and Mrs. Norman H. Thomas, whose home is pictured above, found their telephone was "dead." They called the telephone company from a neighbor's house. As Mr. Thomas later wrote: "In spite of the fact that this was the day before Christmas, with the added obstacle of a fresh, deep snow, a repairman* arrived in twenty minutes. Within one hour from the time the trouble was reported, he had new lines up and the telephone working.

"If this earnest and sincere workman reflects the training policy of your company, then Michigan Bell Telephone Company certainly is doing a most remarkable job."

Annual Christmas Tea Yesterday At Bethany Church

Bethany Lutheran Ladies' Aid entertained at its 18th annual Christmas tea Tuesday afternoon in the church parlors with over 300 members and guests in attendance.

The tables were attractive with Christmas decorations of evergreens and candles and especially designed programs and individual centerpiece favors in a holiday motif.

Mrs. A. V. Aronson, program chairman for the afternoon, pinned a Christmas rose corsage on Mrs. Oscar Olson and introduced her as "Queen of the Tea". Mrs. Olson next year will be serving her 20th year as president of Bethany Ladies' Aid.

The program which followed sounded, as its keynote throughout, the theme, "Christ In Christmas."

Following tradition the audience itself opened and closed the program with the singing of familiar Christmas hymns. Mrs. A. E. Henrickson was accompanist. Mrs. Robert St. Clair played, as her piano solo, a concert transcription of "Silent Night." Mrs. Cory Hartbarger, accompanied by Mrs. William Maki, sang "I Wonder As I Wander" and "Christmas Eve."

The Rev. Gustav Lund led the group in devotions. The Rev. Wilbert Johnson of Rapid River presented a stirring and thought inspiring address entitled, "And It Came to Pass—Or Will It?"

A social hour followed the program.

Pop Corn Goes With TV

Watching TV tonight? Staying home with a good book—all curled up in your arm chair?

Whatever you're doing at home—alone with the family or entertaining friends—you'll make it a more cheerful, glowing evening with heaping bowls of crisp, tender, pop corn—gently buttered and salted, hot out of the popper.

It is so easy, so quick, with pop corn that is grown specially for home popping, and positively guaranteed to pop—every last kernel of it. And the fun you have of hearing the lively poppity-pop as the kernels explode in the pan or popper is a joy that only the homey fun of popping pop corn can give.

There are many brands of pop corn on the market. But get the kind that is sealed air-tight in metal cans to keep it ever-fresh and ready to pop to its full ability, like Jolly Time, the nation's favorite.

For a jolly time at home tonight, try these easy recipes:

Hot Buttered Pop Corn

Place just a small amount of cooking oil in the bottom of the pan to lightly cover the bottom. Place just enough pop corn in the pan or popper to cover the bottom one kernel deep. Don't let the pan get too hot or the pop corn will scorch before it gets a chance to pop. Keep it agitated. When it is popped, pour over hot cooking oil, butter or margarine, salt to taste and serve.

Cheese Flavored Pop Corn

To your hot buttered pop corn you can add a sprinkling of grated parmesan cheese or grated cheddar cheese, stirring as you sprinkle the cheese to coat each kernel.

Garlic Flavored Pop Corn

Instead of using table salt, some folks like to use a light sprinkle of garlic salt. This adds a piquancy you'll like. But go easy. Garlic is a potent herb, and a little garlic salt is all that is needed for most folks.

Oil Pipeline Will Bring Over $16,000 In Taxes

The Lakehead Pipeline company's new 30-inch oil pipeline in Upper Michigan will produce more than $16,000 in additional tax revenue for Schoolcraft county, Wells Bowers, chairman of county board of supervisors, noted today.

The company has 182,210 feet of pipeline in the county and this will be assessed on the basis of $6.13 per line foot, on recommendation of the state tax commission, Bowers said.

Rate of taxation varies in the eight townships in the county 15 to 29 mills. Six of the townships are crossed by the pipeline.

These are Mueller, Doyle, Manistique, Hiawatha, Thompson and Inwood. Seney and Germfask township and the city of Manistique do not have any of the pipeline within their boundaries.

The line will yield $11,160 in taxes for the county, on the basis of the 10 mills alloted to the county by the tax allocation board; and $5,580 to the schools, which receive 5 of the 15 mills assessed.

Taxes will be levied against the oil line, which stretches from Superior, Wis., to Sarnia, Ont., as of Jan. 1, 1954, in Schoolcraft County, the supervisors' chairman said.

The state tax commission also has informed the county that an appraiser will be sent here about Dec. 10 to compute the tax assessment on a drive-in theatre in Manistique township.

Three Leave Today For Draft Tests

Three Schoolcraft County men today left for Milwaukee to take military induction and pre-induction tests.

Lyle Young, who also was scheduled for pre-induction tests has been transferred to Oakland County, Mrs. Eva Besner, draft board clerk reports.

The call for induction in January is for two men from Schoolcraft County. Dates for reporting next month have not yet been received, Mrs. Besner said.

Bonham Oats Seed Orders Asked Early

Farmers who plan to grow certified Bonham oats in 1954 must order their foundation seed at once, county agricultural agent Clayton D. Reid has been informed by George Wenner, manager of the Michigan Foundation Seed association.

The supply of Bonham seed, grown in the Upper Peninsula, is plentiful but only the amount necessary to fill bona fide orders will be held for spring delivery.

The remainder will be delivered early in the year to fill demand for Bonham seed in Western states, Wenner said.

Order blanks for the oats seed are available at the county agent's office in the post office building at Manistique.

The Bonham rate of seeding trials at the Upper Peninsula Experiment Station last year showed that the rate of 2½ bushels per acre gave greater yields than either the 1½ or 3½, Reid reports. Actual yields were: 1½ bushels, 31.8; 2½, 48.9; 3½, 43.7 bushels per acre.

NEURITIS PAINS WERE TERRIFIC BEFORE I USED O-JIB-WA BITTERS

"I was frankly amazed by the wonderful results I received in just two weeks," says Mrs. Sam Letcher, 1282 B, Bellum Avenue, Muskegon. "O-JIB-WA worked miracles for me."

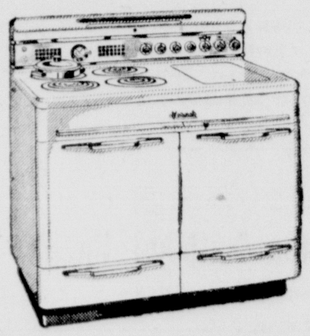

"I first learned of O-JIB-WA BITTERS through a newspaper testimonial such as this. I had read about so many cases that sounded just like mine, that I decided to try a bottle. I have taken two large bottles now, and words cannot express how grateful I am to O-JIB-WA BITTERS. For over five months I suffered terribly from the aches and pains of neuritis, and worst yet, I was told that there was nothing that could be done for me. My legs and arms pained really bad—in fact, terrific, and my elbows were so sore I couldn't touch them. I was disgusted as I couldn't go on the way I suffered. Then I started taking O-JIB-WA BITTERS and was frankly amazed by the wonderful results I received in just two weeks. After all my suffeirng, it's hard to believe that I'm better now, and that just two bottles worked such miracles for me. I sure recommend O-JIB-WA highly every chance I get, and my brother-in-law knowing of my results, started taking the Bitters for his back pains, and feels much better. If you who read this, suffer from rheumatism, arthritis or neuritis, do as I did—get a bottle of O-JIB-WA BITTERS right away, and give it a fair trial. I am sure you will be as happy with it as I am."

Plans Serving Remote Islands

WASHINGTON—Airplanes instead of floating barrels now bring the luxuries of civilization over the Indian Ocean to the Cocos, or Keeling Islands, ruled for five generations by "kings" of Scottish origin.

A World War II airstrip on West Island, largest of the group, has been rebuilt into a $2,000,000 base serving flights between Australia and South Africa, reports the National Geographic Society. Planes bring the books, special mail and table delicacies once dropped by passing ships into the near-by sea for the islanders to recover.

There are five main Cocos Islands, all coral, surrounding a broad lagoon alive with fish. Twelve degrees below the equator, they are halfway between Australia and Ceylon and about 600 miles south of Java.

Settled In 1827

Tradition says they were discovered by Capt. William Keeling of the British East India Company in 1608-9. The first Scots "king", John Clunies-Ross, arrived with his wife, children, mother-in-law and a few companions in 1827.

Ross the First established coconut plantations and equipment which extracted premium oil from the nuts. He ridded the Islands of undesirable adventurers, issued currency, made wise laws to govern his people and turned the Cocos into an Eden where there was no crime or want.

Eventually Britain annexed the Islands. Members of the Clunies-Ross family ever since have been named governors of the colony and given an unusually free hand in the conduct of its affairs. The present governor is another John Clunies-Ross. He is only 24 years old.

Queen Elizabeth II is to visit the Cocos on her forthcoming visit to British possessions around the world. In two world wars, the atoll has had far less welcome visitors.

Emden Arrives

Personnel manning the important cable station on the colony's Direction Island sighted a strange warship on the horizon in 1914. They had only time to report her as the German raider Emden before a party came ashore to wreck cable and wireless facilities.

But the SOS sent from Cocos was enough to seal Emden's fate. The near-by Australian cruiser Sydney steamed over to engage her and drive her ashore on North Keeling Island, 15 miles north of the main group. Cocos Islanders for years salvaged steel from the wreck.

The Japanese bombarded the cable station in World War II. Thinking they had destroyed it, they did not bother to land. The station operated for the rest of the war under secret code names.

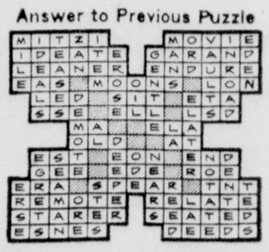

Cocos Islanders, a mixture of many races brought in from the Far East as workers, number about 2,000. Because the Islands are badly overcrowded, some are leaving. They go with reluctance, for an old rule on Cocos is that anyone who goes may not return lest he bring back vice and disease from the outside.

Building Child's Personality PTA Discussion Theme

ROCK — Wallace Watt, a consultant from the Department of Mental Health at Lansing, gave a very fine talk on "Building a Healthy Personality for Your Child," at the meeting of the Rock PTA Monday. A film, "Meeting Emotional Needs in Childhood," was also shown during the course of the evening. Open discussion was led by Mr. Watt at different times during the talk.

The audience was told that a child begins to develop a personality as early as three months of age. A baby wants love and cuddling, and if the parents give it to him, he will find that the world is a good place to be in and he begins a healthy personality.

The first two years of a child's life are the most important in his whole life. It was pointed out time and again that a child needs love in order to feel security. An insecure child is usually the one who causes trouble in school and as he grows up he will try to escape unpleasant reality by various methods. One of the most common ways is alcoholism.

The film dealt with the home and school and how each could help a child build a healthy personality. It also illustrated things in the home that made a child feel he is not loved. It also showed a happy family.

So many of our penal and mental institutions are filled with people who have mental maladjustments. The state prison at Jackson is the largest in the world. The largest mental institution in the world is at Lapeer.

There was a short business meeting before the talk of the evening.

The secretary, Mrs. Osmo Aalto, announced that the Kindergarten room won the attendance award for the month of October and Mrs. Hoffman's first and second grade room won the award for the November meeting.

Mrs. Eino Kivela reported that of the 78 students who have signed up for dental work, 13 have been completed.

Mrs. Sulo Rutsola and Mrs. Roy Jacks will attend the discussion leadership training conference at Rapid River on Dec. 2.

Because of Christmas vacation, the December meeting will be omitted. The next PTA meeting will be January 25.

Mrs. Reino Neimela is the room mother for Mrs. Staples' room, which is to serve the lunch for the January meeting.

It was also announced that the school Christmas program will be held on Thursday, Dec. 17 at 6:30 p. m.

The meeting was well attended. It was especially encouraging to see a large number of fathers present, and also some members of the Perkins PTA.

After the meeting was adjourned, a social hour followed in the Home Economics room. Pie and coffee were served as refreshments.

Mr. Watt spent the night in Rock as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Arne Johnson before continuing on his way to Munising Tuesday morning.

Hunting In Rock Area

On the average there were more out of town and out of state hunters around Rock and vicinity than local redcoats and naturally they got more bucks than the local hunters, but the local residents put on a good record for deer killed during the season. Though it is impossible to know of every deer license filled, the following should cover most of the local residents, it totals to 26 bucks:

Osmo Aalto, William Westlund and Philip LaCosse filled their license the first day of the season.

The following hunters brought home 10-point, 200 pound bucks: Orval Lehto, Waino Bakka and Gerald LeClaire. Onni Johnson's buck also had 10 points.

Former local residents are Paul Roine of Wayne, and Uno Toika of Waukegan, Ill., who have filled their hunting licenses.

Among other local residents who have been lucky during hunting season are Herb Westlund, Clifford Carlson, Dick Norden, Arnold Sayen, Eino Tapola, John Selin, Waino Salmi, Martin Kaminen, William Reimer, Henry Jokela, Jack Kleiber, August Linstrom, Walter Linjala, Toivo Hill, Walter Manntie, Walfred Salo and Toivo Lampi.

There have been no reports of bear killed by local hunters but one out-of-town hunter, Tom Timmermen of Hudsonville, shot a big bear while hunting back of the Osmo Aalto residence.

Complete Fund Drive

Ahti Waak, Community Chest chairman for Mapleridge Township has announced that the campaign in the township has been completed. The total of $123.75 was collected by the following solicitors: Mrs. Onni Johnson, Mrs. Sulo Peltola, Mrs. Arvo Huttula, Mrs. John Small, Mrs. Reino Kiiskinen, Mrs. Arne Johnson, Clifford Carlson, George Weingartner, and Ruhonen Brothers.

Buck Contest Results

The Rock Co-op store sponsors an annual buck registration during hunting season with a prize donated for the smallest and a prize for the largest buck registered.

Robert LaFave of Palmer weighed in a 214½ lb. buck and received a woolen hunting shirt as first prize. Toivo Lampi received a lantern complete with batteries for registering the smallest buck, 95 lbs.

Inside was a Siamese cat, which had been batting the envelope back at him with its paws.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our dearly beloved wife, mother and grandmother, Mrs. Daisy Bramer, who passed away five years ago today, December 1, 1948.

Our hearts still ache with loneliness,
Our eyes shed many tears,
God alone knows how we miss you,
As it ends the fifth sad year.

One morning you left us so quickly,
God called you and you had to go,
There was no time for farewells,
And Mom, we miss you so.

You were always so kind and thoughtful,
So steadfast and so true,
We miss your smile so chereful,
And we will always be loving you.

Sadly missed by Husband, Children and Grandchildren.
A4354-336-1t

In loving memory of our beloved wife, mother and grandmother, Mrs. Carl Nyberg, who passed away four years ago, Nov. 29, 1949.

The month of November again is passed,
The saddest month of all the year,
For it was on a November day,
The one we loved was called away,
God took her home, it was His will,
But in our hearts she liveth still.

Sadly missed by husband, children and grandchildren
Mr. Carl Nyberg and Family.

Tom Brewer Is Elected 1954 Braves' Captain

GLADSTONE—Twenty-eight lettermen of the Gladstone varsity football team were honored at the annual Rotary Club gridiron recognition banquet here last night.

Members of Coach Don Pfotenhauer's Braves elected guard Tom Brewer captain of the 1954 squad. Brewer, a rugged performer in the Gladstone line on both offense and defense, will be a senior next year. He was introduced by Duane Peterson, 1953 Gladstone captain.

Also honored at the banquet were members of the 1929 Gladstone football team and Coach Harry Monson of Iron River, the U. P. Sports Writers' Association selection as football coach of the year in the Upper Peninsula.

Attending from the 1929 team were Gus DeHooghe, captain, Walter Wilbee, Elmer Feldt, Jim Damitz, Walfred Lindberg and John Potvin.

Monson, who has been named coach of the year in football for three of the past four seasons, was accompanied by two Iron River Redskin gridders, Carl Nolingberg and Gene Tomassucci.

H. T. Brewer, president of the Rotary Club, re-presented Monson with the Rotary's handsome coach of the year trophy.

Members of the Gladstone junior varsity football team were introduced by reserve coach Eldon R. Keil. J. T. Jones and Wallace Cameron spoke.

The Braves presented gifts to Pfotenhauer and assistant coach Wallace Strom.

Also introduced were cheerleaders Mary Beth Cannon, Nancy Richards, Beverly Timler and Myrna Butler.

A chicken dinner was served by members of the home economics department of the high school.

Perkins Tips Trenary 65-62 In Overtime

TRENARY — The defending champion Perkins cage quint almost lost a 22-point lead here last night in a U. P. Central League thriller but came back strong to win an overtime tussle with Trenary, 65-62.

Coach Tom Gerovac's Perkins cagers moved out to a 16-11 first period lead and stretched it to 35-22 at the half. They pulled steadily away in the third period and had a huge bulge at the halfway mark. They entered the final quarter leading 48-33.

Trenary staged a furious comeback with 23 points in the final period while Perkins fell off to eight. Jim Nance fired a long field goal in the final seconds to tie the score at 56-56 at the end of the regulation time.

In the overtime period Perkins' Marvin Besson flipped in two quick field goals to put the defending league champions out in front and they held the margin until the final gun.

Both teams were hindered by the loss of players on personal fouls. Trenary finished the final 15 seconds of the game with only four men on the floor and one of those committed his fifth foul as the game-ending gun went off. Perkins also lost two starters via the foul route.

Carl Seefield whipped 23 points through the nets for Trenary to capture high point honors for the night. Nance had 17 for Coach George Hager's squad.

Perkins was led by Doug Hackenbruck with 18, Besson with 16 and Mel Gustafson with 12. Perkins won the Bee game 60-38.

The win was the second in three starts for Perkins. Trenary has lost two and won one.

Ten Football Deaths During Past Season

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ten football fatalities—two in college, two in athletic club levels, five in high school and one in sandlot play—have been reported this year to the Football F tality Committee of the American Coaches Assn.

The deaths were reported in statistics through Nov. 25, and while six deaths—five in high school, one sandlot—were reported for the same period in 1952, the totals are well below the average during the 20 years the committee has been at work.

So said Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood, committee chairman, in a preliminary report being compiled today.

49ers Grab Off Canadian Star

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco 49ers Tuesday dipped into Canada to sign John Henry Johnson for their 1954 National Football League season—and provoked as great a howl as have Canadian raids on American teams.

Tony Morabito, 49er owner, smiled broadly as he introduced the ace Calgary halfback at a press conference and said the signing of the Canadian interprovincial union star was "just the reverse of what has been happening."

Johnson's pay was not reported. League rules make him ineligible for San Francisco's remaining two games this year.

Frankie Albert, former 49er quarterback and a teammate of Johnson's with last place Calgary, described the 6 foot-2, 200 pound Negro as "the greatest player I've ever seen."

Johnson scored nine touchdowns and averaged close to four yards per carry with the Stampeders. He was named the league's most valuable player.

At Calgary, Manager Bob Robinett said "it's almost unbelievable. I can't understand what happened."

Rockets Win Third Straight Over Rock Quint By 69 To 40

ROCK—The Rapid River Rockets stretched their basketball victory string to three here last night by measuring the Rock Little Giants 69-40 in a U. P. Central League encounter.

Coach Keith Hindes' Rockets stepped out to an 11-6 lead in the first quarter and were never threatened as they pulled steadily away to the final gun.

Three Rapid River players shared high-point honors for the winners but Rock's Terry Hade was high scorer for the night with 19. Bob Hamilton, Jim Johnson and Waldon Johnson each put 16 points through the nets for Rapid River.

The victory kept the Rapid River scoring pace at 65 points per game, tops in the Central League.

The loss was the first in two starts for Coach Pete Tinsley's Rock quint.

In the reserve game the Rapid River Bee team notched a 51-26 victory.

Fuentes Stops Trigo On Eighth Round TKO

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ramon Fuentes, California welterweight champion, put Mario Trigo, Los Angeles challenger, out of commission in the eighth round of their scheduled 12-round title fight Tuesday night.

Referee Reg Gilmore stopped the fight after Trigo had gone down for an eight count. Trigo had taken severe body punishment from the second round on.

Hermansville Defeats Wausaukee By 70 To 54

WAUSAUKEE —The Hermansville Redskins shook off a 13-13 first period tie here last night and rambled to a convincing 70-54 basketball victory over Wausaukee High School before a large crowd in the new gymnasium.

The Redskins stepped up the pace in the second quarter and came out ahead 31-22 at halftime. Coach Don Hill's cagers outscored Wausaukee the rest of the way.

Forward Lindo Polazzo set the scoring pace for Hermansville with seven field goals and five free throws good for 19 points. Lloyd LaCasse chipped in 14, John Farley 13, Gene Stockero 11. Jim Lombard was lost to the Redskins in the first quarter with a dislocated shoulder.

Hermansville caged 26 field goals but their accuracy from the free throw line was not as impressive. They dropped in 18 gift tosses but missed 27 on the Wisconsin one-and-one rule.

The win is the second in three starts for the Redskins who play host to the strong Felch team in a Little Seven Conference clash Friday night.

The Hermansville Bees made a clean sweep of the evening by winning the preliminary game.

Minor Leagues Beset By Worst Dilemma In Baseball's History

By JOE REICHLER

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The minor leagues, trying desperately to save themselves from financial ruin, today faced the worst dilemma in their 52-year history.

As the convention moved into its third day, the minors found themselves torn with inner strife, rebellion, charges of pirating and open dissention in the ranks. There also remained that ever-present ogre, major league radio and television invasions of their territory.

Unable to get help from the majors and apparently unable to help themselves, the little fellows are being ground deeper and deeper into the financial swamp.

Tosses Theft Charge

In an unprecedented action, Frank Shaughnessy, the highly respected president of the International League, was forced to defend himself against the charge that he was trying to steal Piedmont League territory (Richmond, Va.) as a new strut for his own weakened loop.

Shaughnessy faced an accusing Frank Summers, president of the Piedmont League, before minor league czar George M. Trautman.

Summers charged that Shaughnessy, in an attempt to replace the faltering Springfield, Mass., franchise, has tried to woo Richmond into the triple A international, thereby causing untold damage to the class B Piedmont. Shaughnessy denied the charge, saying he simply is trying to affect the salvation of his own league.

Trautman Says Okay

After hearing both sides, Trautman said he felt no real wrong had been done and was confident that things can be worked out.

Owner Eddie Mooers of the Richmond club, however, announced after the meetings that he had rejected a $200,000 offer for his franchise and real estate property. The offer was made by Harry Seibold, Richmond industrialist, who had intended to move the club into the International.

Springfield, a Chicago cub farm club, is demanding $25,000 to relinquish its franchise. It has until Dec. 12 to make up its mind whether it desires to continue in the league.

Irish Irked At Snubbing

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—There is bound to be some disappointment at Notre Dame in finishing No. 2 behind Maryland in the 1953 national football ranking, and this should help stoke up the Irish against Southern Methodist Saturday.

SMU is the last opponent on Notre Dame's so-called suicide schedule and victory would mean coach Frank Leahy's first undefeated season since 1949.

Apparently, a 14-14 tie with Iowa was the influencing factor as voters in the Associated Press' final poll mustered enough strength to give Maryland the mythical national title by a margin of 3,365 to 3,149 points this week.

Maryland was unbeaten and untied. But many midwestern experts think the Terps' schedule cannot compare with that of the Irish who were called on to meet Oklahoma, Purdue, Pitt, Georgia Tech, Navy, Penn, North Carolina, Iowa, Southern California and now SMU.

The Irish failed to regain the No. 1 rating although crushing Southern California Saturday 48-14 for their highest score since lacing Indiana 48-6 in the 1951 opener.

Sports Roundup

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP) — The switch to the California climate for the Rose Bowl game doesn't worry Michigan State football Coach Biggie Munn.

"We'll be out there in time enough so the boys can get accustomed to it," Munn said. "I don't anticipate too much trouble getting them into condition.

"We get a better break in this game as far as training on the Coast goes than we did in the East-West games" he said. "For both of those we had only seven practices. But we did all right—won both of them.

"The last time we trained in California," Munn said, "was that time we spent three days at Arrowhead Springs before the Arizona game. It didn't seem to hurt us," he chuckled. "Remember that score?"

The score was Michigan State 75 Arizona 0—the biggest Munn has run up during his seven years at Michigan State.

Michigan State football captain and end Don Dohoney was warned at one time that he should give up all sports.

Dohoney was told by a physician that he suffered from a fluid deficiency in his knees — that they weren't lubricated properly. Sports could be dangerous for him, he was advised.

But Dohoney stuck with sports and now seems to be making everyone's "All American." He is a prime candidate to make the Associated Press top team, too.

Mike Sturm, sports editor of the Bay City Times, nominates what he terms "the understatement of the year" as forwarded by his Midland correspondent.

Mike's Midland man contributed an item from a Kiwanis publication noting that MSC Coach Biggie Munn was to be the speaker before the group.

"We do not have the title," said the Kiwanis publication of his talk, "however, we anticipate he will have some mention of football."

Cvcngros Lands All-State First Team Backfield Post

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)—A high-scoring backfield, capable of striking through the air or on the ground, features the Class B All-State high school football team announced today by the Associated Press.

U. P. Mentions

Nineteein Upper Peninsula football players made the honorable mention list in the Associated Press All-State Class B team. They are: Ends: Duane Peterson, Gladstone; Jim Ombrello, Ishpeming; Ron Beauchaine, Munising. Tackles: Bob Fraid, Menominee; Al Lopez, Ironwood; Carl Nolinberg, Iron River; Gene Tomassucci, Iron River; Jim Montero, Soo; Dick Blank, Munising; Arthur Dale, Munising. Guards: John Kavinsky, Ironwood; Ray Bosley, Soo; Bob Arnauld, Iron Mountain; Matt Villemure, Newberry. Center: Bob Corson, Manistique. Backs: Fred Barry, Calumet; Gale Harry, Negaunee; Bill Caley, Menominee; Eddie Vergara, Iron River.

PAT CVENGROS

This versatile unit, selected by the state's coaches and a panel of sports writers, is composed of:

Glen Burgett, Sparta.

Pat Cvengros, Ironwood.

Oarie Lemanski, Bad Axe.

John Malone, Lincoln Van Dyke.

All are seniors except Lemanski, an aerial-minded junior whose passes accounted for nine touchdowns this season. A heady team player, Lemanski is rated one of the most masterful ball handlers in the state.

U. P. Back of Year

Malone, who led Van Dyke to the Interlakes Conference championship, also proved he knew how to throw a football as well as run with it. He passed for six touchdowns but it was his wild rushes which baffled the opposition and accounted for 19 touchdowns.

All told, Malone scored 116 points and was the second highest scorer in the entire state.

Cvengros, the Ironwood flash, was voted 'back of the year" by Upper Peninsula sports writers. He sparked the Red Devils to a perfect 8-0 season, scoring 89 points and rushing for 1,150 yards in 169 carries.

Burgett also led Sparta to a perfect-record season on nine straight victories. Although he missed two games with a shoulder separation, he scored 11 touchdowns and compiled a fantastic rushing average of 15 yards per carry.

One Tops 200

In the line, only one player—Dave Hurd of Three Rivers—scaled over 200 pounds. The 208-pound Hurd, a center, was one of the few sophomores in the 13-year history of Associated Press All-State teams to be honored. He was 16 only two days ago.

Three Rivers had a mediocre 4-4 record but Hurd was anything but mediocre. An outstanding downfield blocker, Hurd missed only three minutes of play all season.

The two ends are Elgar Blair of Detroit Lourdes and Allen Downing of Caro.

Blair, 6-feet-4, caught six touchdown passes and was a key player in Lourdes' effective pass defense. He ran back one intercepted pass 88 yards for a touchdown.

Downing, a six-footer, averaged more than one touchdown a game. He was the leading scorer in the Thumb Class B Conference. An extremely fast runner, Downing is a member of Caro's track squad

Veteran Tackles

The tackle spots are held down by two veterans—Tom Kreilick of Portage and Jim Hagadorn of Alma.

Kreilick was a rugged, two-way player and seldom needed a rest. Hagadorn, a deadly tackler, played the "hot side" of Alma's line, and usually got a quick jump on opposing linemen.

Holding the guard positions are two hard-hitting, 170-pound seniors—Frank Demski of Mt. Pleasant and Don Henderson of Trenton.

Demski, an all-conference selection, led Mt. Pleasant to an 8-0 season with his jarring line play. Henderson, despite his lack of height—he's 5-6—was a standout for Trenton all year. So much so, in fact, that many college scouts have looked him over.

List Starters For Manistique Court Openers

MANISTIQUE — Coach Rudie Brandstrom's varsity cagers are getting in final practices before opening their 1953-54 basketball schedule with a doubleheader this weekend at the Canadian and American Soo.

"The team looks good, but we'll know more about the season's prospects after we've played a couple games," Coach Brandstrom noted today.

The MHS cagers tangle at 9 p. m., Friday with American Soo and at 8:15 p. m., Saturday with the Canadian Soo. Both games will be played on opponents' floors.

First home game for the '53-54 cagers will be against Gladstone Friday, Dec. 11.

Manistique's reserves, coached by Dick Berger, also go into action for the first time this weekend. The Bees play at Grand Marias Friday night. The game is called for 8 p. m.

Starting lineup for the varsity's opening clash will find Carl Scharstrom, a letterman, and either Ken Magnuson or Jim Garvin at forward; Tom Quinn, a letterman, at center; and either Don Anderson or Marvin Larson, Sophomore Ed Bernier or Bill Holms in the guard slots. Both Larson and Holms are lettermen.

Also likely to see action in the opening tussle will be center Bob Hastings, forward Bob (Skip) Corson and forward Kenneth Dixner.

Little All-American Team Is Rated Best Of All Time

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—The Associated Press' little All-America football team of 1953 honors players from colleges in 10 different states, giving recognition to athletes who helped their teams win conference or regional championships, aided in winning bowl bids and, in one case, set national records.

It is doubtful if ever in the past the colleges termed minor by the National Collegiate Athletic Service Bureau, in contrast to the huge brain factories, have been represented by such a stalwart and able team.

For instance, the backfield lists Leo Lewis of Lincoln University, Jefferson City, Mo. Lewis, a junior, already has scored 53 touchdowns in three seasons to establish a record no other player can match. He was the nation's ace point-getter this year with 132 points.

Pepper Is Star

In the backfield with him is Hugh Laurin Pepper, the running ace of the Mississippi Southern team which opened the season by defeating Alabama and closed it by blanking Georgia. At quarterback is Pence Dacus of Southwest Texas State, by statistics the nation's best passer, and Richard Woit, whose Arkansas State team of Jonesboro again is in a bowl game.

To make things easy for this talented array of ball carriers are seven linemen who are stars in their own rights.

Right in the middle of things is Stan Sheriff of California Poly. The club is the only undefeated team in California and scored 400 points while holding its nine victims to 65. Sheriff, whose college career was interrupted, already has been drafted by the Detroit Lions.

Had Perfect Seasons

At one of the tackles is Robert Lade of Peru, Neb., Teachers. He is a repeater from the 1952 team and again helped the Nebraskans to an unbeaten year. At the other tackle post is Norman Hayes of the College of Idaho. His team also defeated all rivals and then won a spot in the Refrigerator Bowl.

Bruno Ashley of East Texas State, a team which equalled Maryland's mighty record of 10 successive victories through the season, is stationed at one guard and Robert Adams of Shippensburg, Pa., Teachers at the other. Shippensburg also stormed through its schedule without a setback.

St. Olaf College of Minnesota whipped eight opponents in succession and registered 361 points to 58. A part of the reason for its success was the play of John Gustafson at end, a position he holds on the national outfit. At the other terminal is Hal Morrison, the all-everything star of the East Tennessee State aggregation which won the Burley Bowl laurels on Thanksgiving day.

Modest Lattner Hard To Pin Down In Talk

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — If Johnny Lattner gets on his feet to adress his hosts at the Maxwell and Heisman awards dinners those present may witness a neat bit of sidestepping.

Notre Dame's brilliant 20-year-old halfback, voted both awards Tuesday, is just as hard to corner in conversation as he is on the football field.

That's especially true when the subject is Johnny Lattner.

Asked by a reporter for his reaction to being chosen for college football's top two individual honors, the boyish All America hesitated, then said it was "sure a thrill."

Team Feels Bad

However, he hastened to turn the talk to the Irish team. Said John: "I'm sorry the team missed getting the top ranking in the national poll. We were all doing our best Saturday against Southern California, shooting for it. I seem to be getting all the honors and the team missed the big one."

Lattner had perhaps his finest day of the season, scoring four touchdowns and running 157 yards from scrimmage as the Irish beat USC 48-14.

How about that performance?

"Well, we were all trying hard. That Neil Worden is great. (Fullback Worden averaged nearly 10 yards in 15 smashes against USC.) You know, he practically carried the whole offense in our opening games. I hurt my ankle."

Lattner played both ways — on offense and defense — even before this year's revision of the substitution rule made it mandatory. Which does he like best?

"I like both."

Would Like Pro Ball

Does he think he'll play professional football?

"I'd like to but I'm in the Air Force ROTC and may have to go into service after graduation so I haven't been thinking about it too much."

If he does play pro football, would it be with one of his hometown clubs — the Chicago Bears or Cardinals?

"I don't know."

At this point, Lattner volunteered the opinion that Frank Leahy and his Notre Dame assistants were wonderful coaches.

Was there anything else he'd like to say?

"Well, it looks like I'll really have to play a good game against Southern Methodist (in the final Irish game Saturday) to live up to all those honors."

Picking Of East-West Gridders Nears End

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Eight players, including Washington's All-Pacific Coast Guard Milt Bohart, were named to the West team Tuesday for the annual East-West shrine charity football game here Jan. 2.

Others selected by West Coach Chuck Taylor of Stanford are Carlton Massey, Texas end; Phil Branch, Texas guard; Cotton Davidson, Baylor quarterback; Jerry Coody, Baylor halfback; Dean Chambers, Washington tackle; Ted Tanner, Stanford center and Stan Sheriff, California Poly little All-America center.

Five more West and three East players remain to be named to bring the squads to 22 each.

The two squads will open training Dec. 22, the West at Stanford and the East at Santa Clara.

Dykes Hires Oliver As First Of Coaches

ATLANTA (AP)—Tom Oliver, a coach with the Philadelphia A's for the past three seasons, today was named a coach with Baltimore under new Manager Jimmy Dykes. He is the first coach named to Dykes' staff.

Oliver, 50, a former Boston Red Sox outfielder, managed for seven years in the minors before turning to coaching. He served with the A's from 1951 through 1953. He was cut loose at Philadelphia when Eddie Joost succeeded Dykes.

Old Scoreboards Are Obsolete In College Today; Must Top 100

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK (AP) — Any college with a basketball scoreboard that won't register over 100 points better give up the game this season.

Returns from the first big college basketball night of the winter show more than a dozen scores in the three-figure category with anything under 80 almost certain to belong to a losing club.

Six of last season's top teams saw action Tuesday night and all triumphed.

Some Got Beat

Not all of the big clubs were as successful, however. The California Bears, supposedly the best club on the Pacific Coast, were thumped 51-33 by San Francisco in one of the lowest scoring games of the night. Texas A&M of the Southwest Conference was jolted 88-68 by Lamar Tech of Beaumont, and Clemson of the Atlantic Coast Conference bowed before the skill of little Presbyterian 92-61.

North Carolina State, perennial Southern powerhouse, hit the century mark against Furman, winning 100-74 although Frank Selvy scored 31 points for the losers. Selvy averaged 29.9 points a game in leading the nation's scorers in the 1952-53 season. State was ranked 18th in last spring's final Associated Press poll.

St. John's Pushed

St. John's of Brooklyn, runner-up in the 1953 National Invitation Tournament, was pushed by Roanoke College before winning 70-56.

Oklahoma A&M, No. 8 a season ago behind St. John's, showed tremendous offensive power in whipping Hardin-Simmons 85-40. But the Aggies also had their famous defense working, allowing the Texans only six field goals, five of them in the first half.

Two Big Ten clubs opened their season. Illinois, No. 11, warmed up against Ohio University 85-54, while improving Wisconsin, tabbed as a first-division contender, defeated Butler 70-54.

Coach's Son Stars

Wake Forest, No. 15, coasted against Virginia Tech 82-55, and DePaul, No. 19, beat Illinois Wesleyan 73-63.

In the high-scoring department, Tennessee swamped Wofford 107-63 and Fordham, tabbed as one of the best in New York, overpowered Adelphia 105-56. Ed Conlin scored 42 points for Fordham, tops for the night among the major schools.

Howard Hobson of Yale, one of the nation's best known coaches, watched his son score 17 points in leading the Elis to an 81-64 victory over Springfield College.

Street Takes Holiday Air

Christmas decorations have been erected on Gladstone's main street, Delta Ave., and the cheery varicolored lights provide a cheery holiday atmosphere.

Garlands of evergreens intertwined with strings of Christmas lights have been placed across the street from light poles at several points in each block.

The big community tree has been brought to Gladstone and was erected yesterday on the parking lot across from the City Hall. Decorating of the tree probably will be done today.

Killing and possession of an illegal deer cost two Gladstone men $115.60 early this week.

Both admitted the charges in the justice court of A. T. Sohlberg and each was fined $50 and assessed court costs of $7.80.

Johnson also will pay an additional penalty for he will be unable to obtain a deer license for three years.

Conservation Officer Glenn Price was the arresting officer.

Claims It Was Too Much Dog

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. (AP)—For sale: one dog—part Boxer, part Great Dane, a dash of Shetland pony. At least that's the way fireman Carl Akerley describes the puppy he recently brought home as a pet.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Try These For Your Man's Christmas

Christmas for the man of the house might include any one or several of these highly practical gifts. Sport shirt (upper left) is "miracle" blend of fine combed cotton, rayon and vicara. It comes in both checks and solid colors, is completely washable. Outdoor man (upper right) will dote on jacket of combed and mercerized sailcloth that's water and spot repellent. There's a patented hood with zipper concealed in collar. Brand new travel kit (lower left) is saddle stitched top grain cowhide, comes completely equipped, has removable toiletry tray. Toilet water with tangy fragrance (lower left center) is quick freshener for any hour of the day. It comes in miniature wood packing case for gift giving. Cuff links and tie bar (lower right center) are in rolled gold overlay. Cuff links are set with massive stones. Skier's joy (right) is a pair of really good boots. These have ankle strap that wraps four times around ankle to give needed support.

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

There are several ways of picking out a Christmas gift for a man. One is to tell him to pick out something he likes and charge it to himself. This saves you trouble and he's sure of getting something he wants.

Another is to buy him a hand-painted necktie. Men, regardless of size, weight or age, simply dote on hand - painted neckties. A third way is to buy something for the house (like a sewing machine or a needlepoint chair) and refer to it as "Dad's gift."

While any one of these methods is good, you may want to go shopping in the regular, routine way. In this case, start early and try to find something he'll really like. It might be an unusual gift keyed to his favorite sport, like the skier's boot with new widened toe section for comfort and warmth. An ankle strap that wraps four times around the ankle lends needed support. And there's a "V" cut at the ankle to accommodate the forward lean as the skier approaches a jump or turn. This boot is not inexpensive but it has value for the money.

For the Hunter

If he likes to hunt, put hunting jacket and pants under his tree. The outershell of one new jacket is water - and spot - repellent, has a patented hood with zipper concealed in collar. Rubber-coated fabric forms back, front and yoke and the upper sleeve lining as well as game pocket. It has shell loops and pockets with flaps, adjustable corduroy collar and cuffs. Pants are reinforced in seat and leg front to cuff.

Sport shirt with a difference is one made of fine combed cotton, rayon and vicara. This is hand-washable, comes in wide range of checks and solids. It's ideal for winter days, indoors and out.

If you give him a travel kit, give him one in a really good cowhide that will last. And pick one that comes fitted with cologne, talcum, deodorant stick, solid after - shave lotion. Back compartment of this kit is big enough to take all other shaving needs and there's a removable toiletry tray.

Select With Care

If he likes toilet water but refuses to buy it for himself on the grounds that it's "sissy," give him some that has a nice, tangy fragrance and comes packaged in a miniature wood packing case. He'll use it and sneak out for refills when it's gone.

If you want to give him a tie bar and matching cuff links, fine. You'll have no trouble in finding good-looking sets. There are nice sets of matching tie bar, cuff links. Some sets include a matching ring. Restraint is the watchword in cuff links that men really like to wear.

Casserole Best After-Christmas Turkey Talk

Comes the day after Christmas. Something must be done with what's left of the feasting foods from the big family dinner.

First priority must be given to turkey because of its perishable character. Popular as ever, the casserole seems the best way of re-introducing the turkey at the table.

A casserole takes a little bit of turkey a long, long way—especially when the turkey is in combination with macaroni, noodles or spaghetti. These foods skillfully pick up the turkey flavor and make the most of it.

Chicken and Turkey Tetrazzini are popular items on many restaurant menus. Now is a good time to debut this version at home. It makes 6 services, using only 1 cup of diced turkey.

TURKEY TETRAZZINI

6 ounces long spakhetti
¼ cup turkey fat
¼ cup enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon celery salt
2 cups milk
1 boullion cube
1 cup diced cooked turkey
½ cup sliced mushrooms (1 4-ounce can)
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese

Cook spaghetti in boiling salted water until tender (about 12 minutes). Drain and rinse. While spaghetti is cooking, add boullion cube to turkey fat and melt in saucepan. Stir in flour, salt and celery salt. Add milk and boullion cube and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add spaghetti, turkey and mushrooms. Mix well. Pour into greased 1½-quart casserole. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) about 20 minutes. Serve hot.

Makes 6 servings.

Turkey Dandy uses macaroni, peas and sliced carrots in colorful combination. Complete the menu with garlic bread and tossed salad.

TURKEY DANDY

4 ounces elbow macaroni
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk or turkey stock
1 cup cooked turkey
1 cup cooked peas
1 cup cooked sliced carrots

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender (about 19 minutes). Drain and rinse. While macaroni is cooking, melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Stir in flour and salt. Add milk or turkey stock. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Place macaroni in 8-inch square baking dish. Arrange layer of turkey over macaroni and top with carrots and peas. Pour white sauce over all. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) about 30 minutes.

Makes 4 services.

Use some of the turkey in the omelet you will make for that leisurely brunch on Saturday. Serve cranberry sauce with it for a bright morning meal.

TURKEY OMELET

4 ounces medium noodles
3 eggs, separated
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup milk
1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine
1 cup diced turkey or chicken
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Cranberry sauce

Cook noodles in boiling salted water until tender (about 5 minutes). Drain and rinse. Beat egg yolks. Add salt, pepper, milk and 1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine. Combine with noodles and turkey, mixing well. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in heavy skillet. Pour egg mixture into skillet and cook over low heat about 3 minutes. Then put into oven and bake at moderate temperature (350° F.) 15 minutes. When done, cut about half-way through omelet across center and fold over. Serve hot with cranberry sauce.

Makes 4 servings.

Likes Boating, Has Lake Made To Order

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Robert M. Miller, of Pottstown, R. D. 3, likes boating, but couldn't find a quiet lake in his neighborhood—so he's having one dug. Contractors do the digging in exchange for the topsoil they haul away.

Though the present lake bed is dry, Miller says the excavators should hit a spring soon that will fill the 1,200 by 145 foot hole.

This Year's Trend Aims At Growing Up

Santa's toy pack this year will be loaded with how-to- items. The little girl who has a yen to be a nurse might receive a convertable four-wheel bike (right) which comes with a shoulder strap bag full of first-aid essentials, an apron and a nurse's cap. A railroad trestle set with supports that resemble girder construction and a miniature miner's work train will thrill would-be engineers. Junior firemen may find under their trees fire trucks (left) that feature four-foot extension ladders of cast aluminum. Among the new games (lower left center) is a crossword board game that makes word-building fun. Another, a streamlined version of bingo, will practically guarantee A's in geography. Dolls also manifest the toys-with-a-purpose trend. Many come with kits designed to foster interest in good grooming. Other toys can be found that feature making a game of tooth brushing, tidy eating and going to bed.

By FLORENCE V. HARTEN
NEA Staff Writer

Toys that teach as well as entertain have gained popularity rapidly in recent years. This Christmas, they will be taking the lead, the American Toy Institute reports.

The current interest in conquering space will be reflected in rocket guns, space helmets and space ports. Space ship designs are even influencing toddlers' push and pull toys.

Many toys are being designed to give the small fry practical training for careers. There are toys, for example, that explore scientific house cleaning, auto maintenance, gardening and shoe shine and beauty shop operation.

A fiberboard supermarket equipped with shelves, miniature packages and display material will please the junior grocer. And future architects will delight in prefabricated parts that permit exact reproduction of suburban and city building developments.

For the would - be housewife there will be a miniature shopping cart stocked with dozens of tiny replicas of famous food packages. New in housecleaning cabinets in one that features a roll of linoleum in addition to pail, mop, scrubbing brush and detergents.

Cowboys' and girls' accessories will continue popular, of course, as will dolls, which also will reflect this year's how-to trend.

Christmas trees will shelter dolls that encourage good grooming in little misses. One doll will come with a kit of real make-up and beauty care instructions. Its vinyl skin can be cleaned easily, so that it is always ready for repeated experiments. Another doll is a miniature bathing beauty in fashionable suit, bandana, beach robe and shoes. Doll wardrobes will encourage neat storage of handbags, shoes and jewelry as well as clothes.

Aid In Training

Games also will help parents interest their youngsters in acquiring good habits. Toys are now available that feature making a game of tooth brushing, careful eating and going to bed. One new puzzle is designed to give toddlers a release of aggressive impulses.

Crafts enthusiasts will be interested in a new weaver that has a yarn dispenser for each color so that the balls won't get into bothersome tangles.

FIRE BALL

You'll help allay fear of flash fires during the holidays with one of the new glass balls filled with carbon tetrachloride. The fire ball may be attached to the top of your Christmas tree as a precaution in the event of a spark from Junior's electric trains or excessive heat sets the tree aflame. The heat melts the fusible metal, splashing the chemical over the tree to extinguish a flash fire in a split second, say the manufacturers.

Titanium is the fourth most common metal in the earth's crust.

Quiet Manner Is An Asset

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

POISE is essential to beauty. And the time to begin its development is right now, teenagers.

Don't wait until the time when you can no longer get away with them to attempt to discard childish mannerisms. By then, they will be rooted in your personality. Furthermore, they make you less attractive than you could be now.

Loud laughing, jostling of each other and other attention-getting antics contrast sharply with your efforts to develop an adult flair for clothes and cosmetics. It is a case of one thing laughing at the other.

You will notice that it is the quiet, assured, graceful movements of women that characterize them as charming. The really lovely ladies in public, whether in the theater or politics, do not make crash landings. But, as you well know, those lovely, quiet ladies get plenty of attention—the flattering kind.

The bell that signals the end of the day's classes is too often taken as a signal to release pent-up energy. One frequently sees students emerge shouting, giggling, pushing.

So be particularly careful at this time. Study your mannerisms and resolve to refine them. If your crowd will share your resolution, the road to poise will be much shorter. You can help each other to become truly attractive: well-groomed and poised.

Church Leaders See New Role For 1953 Christmas Cards

More than 31,000,000 Protestant church members will be urged to send truly reverent Christmas greetings this year.

Reverend Dr. Jesse M. Bader of the National Council of Churches estimates 100,000 ministers will make an announcement to that effect at Sunday services during the holiday season.

As part of this nationwide program to encourage "the observance of Christmas in a more Christian way," Rev. Bader has enlisted the aid of Christmas card publishers, too. Thus religious designs and verses will appear in greater numbers than at any time since World War II.

A spokesman for the National Association of Greeting Card Publishers explained, "Some of the best craftsmen available were assigned to create the most beautiful religious greetings possible. We were glad to help. Now it's up to the public to cooperate."

Biblical texts related to the First Christmas replaced traditional greetings in many instances. Designs feature the Three Wise Men, white-robed angels and even full-color reproductions of the Madonna and Child from famous Renaissance paintings.

A Holiday Array For Teen-Agers

For Christmas this year, here are gifts priced under five dollars for teen-agers to give their friends. Scarf (left) has mistletoe pattern, comes in pastel shades. Clever use of buttons and velvet against cotton satin brings three-D to aprons (upper left center). Accordion-pleated ribbon forms body of jack-in-box; buttons are used for his eyes and nose. Simple knit gloves can be given special touch by adding pretty bits from notions counter. Gloves shown here (lower left center) have pearl clusters stitched along sides. Star-speckled purse vanity (upper right center) contains lipstick, comb, nail file, eyebrow tweezers, tissues and mirror. It comes in several shades. The traveling teen-ager will welcome these packets (lower right center). Each packet contains three tablespoons of a blue detergent. Tie several together with gay ribbon and balls for attractive package. Bucket bag (upper right) has enameled fleur-de-lis spotlighting its russet leather. Gold metallic painting combined with white and red satin brocade makes attractive compact and case (lower right). Compact has tortoise-type shell rim. Case also holds comb, has extra pocket for lipstick and rouge. These are gifts that will increase any teen-ager's interest in good looks and good grooming.

By FLORENCE V. HARTEN
NEA Staff Writer

With their limited budgets and numerous friends, teen-agers usually face quite a challenge at Christmas time. However, the prospects for this year are encouraging.

Some teen-agers solve the gift problem by making most of the things they will present to their families and friends. Others, lacking the time or the inclination to knit, sew or crochet, will find many items that are kind to the budget and that are attractive and practical, too.

High on the popularity list, along with cosmetic kits, costume jewelry and cologne, are scarves, knit gloves and handbags. Right in the holiday spirit is a scarf that has a mistletoe motif. Available in subtle pastels, it sells for around $2. Others, often in geometric patterns, feature the very important textured look. Knotted for the three-dimensional effect, they balance the slim line of the season.

Signature Popular

The teen-ager who would like to put her signature to her gifts can do so very easily in several ways. One idea is to add tiny buttons, pearls or stones to the knit gloves which are so fashionable right now. Sewing the decorations along the edge of the gloves gives a flattering lengthening effect as well as a personal touch.

Another very gay gift that can be made inexpensively and with little effort is a party apron which combines cotton satin, buttons and velvet for the Three-D look. On the apron sew a jack-in-the-box of accordion-pleated ribbon springing from a box of appliqued velvet. For his eyes use ball buttons and for his nose, three graduated buttons. This costs about $1.50 to make.

A really practical and budget-kind gift can be made in minutes by filling tiny transparent envelopes with a blue detergent, sealing tightly to prevent spilling. Use three tablespoonfuls to a packet. The traveling teen-ager will find the packets handy for nightly lingerie sudsing en route. And, tied with pretty ribbon decorated with bells or holly sprigs, a few packets will make an attractive gift.

Budget Handbags

Among costume jewelry there is a new charm bracelet that comes with a mirror-sided vanity watch. It sells for around $2 plus tax.

Latest in the budget - priced handbag vanities are two that will appeal to teen-agers. One is a tortoise - type shell - rimmed compact covered with red-and-white satin brocade laced with gold metallic thread. Matching case also holds gay comb, has room for lipstick and tissues. It is priced at around $1. A wallet containing lipstick, comb, nail file, eyebrow tweezers, tissues and mirror has star-speckled case which is available in several colors. It costs around $2 plus tax.

Car Wheels Stolen Near Police Station

CLAREMONT, N. H. (AP)—Olney Quimby found the front end of his automobile supported by concrete blocks. The two front wheels, tires and tubes, had been stolen.

A year ago—on the same spot, in the same way—he lost one wheel, but from a different car.

The overnight parking site: a few hundred feet from the city's police station.

LUNCHEON PLATTER

You can arrange such a pretty luncheon platter with hard-cooked eggs, canned beets and steamed cauliflower. Devil the eggs and marinate the sliced or diced beets; make a sauce for the cauliflower of mayonnaise seasoned with a dash of curry powder. Arrange all three foods on crisp greens, garnishing with sprigs of parsley and paprika. Serve with hot biscuits and tea or coffee.

Christmas Week Need Not Exhaust Homemaker With Preparations

This housewife checks over Christmas accessories, refreshes them well in advance of the day. Here, she restores holly leaf wreath and tinsel by swishing them up and down in sinkful of soapsuds. Both can drain dry on thick towel.

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

NEW YORK —(NEA)— While Christmas week should be a joyous time, it should not be hectic. Since preparations for the great day are up to the distaff side, it's best to have things well organized at least three weeks in advance.

By doing some of the work before Christmas week, you can avoid rushing through the holiday season at top speed, feeling frantic.

Your Christmas table will probably be the center of good cheer at your house. So begin by giving it a thorough cleaning in addition to the regular weekly polishing. Go over the whole table with sponge and thick, warm soapsuds to remove the old polish. Then rinse with a sponge wrung out of warm water. Dry thoroughly and re-polish.

Special Cloth

Perhaps you have a special cloth for Christmas Day, one with holly or poinsettia design. This is the time to bring it out. Pick a sunny day to launder both cloth and napkins carefully. Then hang them outdoors to bleach. Give them lots of soapsuds and rinses, then press with a hot iron while they're still damp. Cotton can be ironed on the right side.

Linen should be ironed first on the wrong side, then on the right. This gives it a nice luster. If you're using a monogrammed cloth, press the monogram face down on a turkish towel to make it stand out properly.

If you're going to need any "extras" for holiday entertaining, this is the time to think about it. Lace doilies, table mats, buffet runners can all be sudsed and pressed, then put aside before the excitement starts.

If you have special china, crystal and silver for Christmas dinner, get them out now and suds china and crystal shiny. Wash off shelves on which you've kept them and they'll stay bright until Christmas Day. If the silver has become tarnished, this is the time to polish it.

Check Decorations Now

It's also the time to take a look at the Christmas decorations. You can re-crisp the wilted bows on last year's wreaths by washing the ribbons, then pressing them face down under a sheet of wax paper. Brighten the leaves of holly or poinsettia by going over them lightly with a soapy sponge.

A wreath can be dipped up and down through warm soapsuds, rinsed and hung to dry. Tarnished tinsel will take on new glitter if it's swished through warm, soapy water, rinsed and dropped on a towel to dry. Be sure the Christmas-tree bulbs are cleaned wnth a swipe of your soapy cloth.

By working ahead, Christmas week will be yours for last-minute gift wrapping, shopping and fun of baking. And you'll be able to enjoy the holidays along with the other members of the family.

Idea for second-day turkey: Serve creamed turkey and peas over crisp, French-fried noodles. Cranberry gelatin salad and hot rolls are pleasing partners.

Here Is Help For Tired Feet

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Don't let your feet go to your head. There is no reason to let tired feet sour your disposition when the irritation can be eliminated easily, and quickly.

After a tiring day, perk up your feet by bathing them in hot and cold water. First plunge them into a basin of very warm water; lather them with a lanolin-rich soap, massaging the aching muscles as you do. Then dip them into a basin of cool water. Switch from hot to cold a few more times.

This is a good procedure to follow for your weekly pedicure. After you have finished the alternating dips, file the toenails straight across with an emery board; this will help prevent hose snags. The nails should be kept long enough to protect the tips of the toes.

Next, push back the cutiles and clear the area around the nails with a cotton-wrapped orange stick. First dip the cotton in a solution of peroxide and ammonia made from one tablespoon of peroxide and one-half teaspoon ammonia.

Finally, polish the nails. Dampen one end of a large buffer and sprinkle on a bit of powdered pumice. After using this side a few moments, complete the buffing job with a few brisk swipes with the dry side.

If you use nail enamel, separate toes with cotton balls to prevent smearing.

Food is the most urgent daily need of your life. It is the single most important influence on your health. It affects your rate of growth, your appearance, your vitality, your whole physical being. Improving eating habits should be a vital concern of each and every one of us.

Rose Bushes Play Public Safety Role

SAUGUS, Mass. (AP)—A motor vehicle research company reporting on rose bushes as a safety factor when planted on safety islands says they resist the impact of a car as gently as a normal, light application of brakes.

The tests were made to design methods of reducing fatal accidents on multilane highways where vehicles might skid or run out of control.

New Scent; Essence Of Christmas

Beauty preparations, gaily wrapped and often disguised as Yuletide symbols, are top contenders for gifts to the women in everyone's life. The young, in years or in heart, will be captivated by this cherub (left) which bears two gifts along with its book of carols. Perched on a box of face powder, it has as its body a flacon of perfume. French purse evening kit (upper left center) comes in blue and white hound's tooth check sparked with gold metallic thread. Lining is blue taffeta. The purse features pearl-encrusted compact and is available with or without lipstick. Twin bottles of toilet water and bath oil (lower left center) tower along side box of dusting powder. Color scheme is gold and white. Set of matching dusting powder and cologne (upper right center) accents femininity in its packaging. Figures in white prance against soft blue background. Elegantly bedded on blue satin in a sapphire blue box, grouping (lower right center) includes body lotion, liquid and stick cologne. All set for hanging on Christmas tree, tear-drop flacon of French perfume (right) can be worn later as lapel pin or chatelaine.

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Women are unpredictable people. Generally, they won't buy smart cosmetic sets and perfumes for themselves, yet they feel very pampered when they receive them as gifts. They also love the added aura of luxury which exquisite packaging lends. So at Christmas time when cosmetic houses outdo each other in creating lovely settings for their products, these items make especially welcome gifts for the ladies.

Many are disguised as Yuletide symbols. One set of perfume and face powder, for example, comes as an angel holding a book of carols. The perfume forms the body of the little figure, which stands on the powder box.

Teardrop for Tree

One of the loveliest perfume flacons in the Christmas mood is a teardrop that can be hung on the tree and later can beworn as a chatelaine or lapel ornament. Inspired by antique Venetian jewelry, the flacon is topped by a gold ring to which a turquoise ribbon is tied. The French perfume is said to combine Oriental languor and spiciness with Occidental refinement. This same scent also comes in a more expensive flacon. It is cut as a diamond, with the one-ounce flacon the size of an 118,000-carat diamond. Set with metal prongs in white satin, the "diamond" comes in a satin-covered box.

Twin towers flanking a box of dusting powder make a graceful grouping in a set that has a white and gold color scheme. The bottles, which hold cologne and bath oil, have gold-speckled caps. A golden sunburst adorns white powder box.

In sharp contrast to the brilliant colors of the season, a complete new line of toiletries is being offered for Christmas giving by one cosmetic house. Including bath oil, lotion, colognes and dusting powder, the new line is packaged in delicate blue with dancing figures in white adding to the femininity of the look.

Study In Blue

Another study in blue, but this time brilliant sapphire, is provided in a set which consists of stick and liquid cologne and body lotion. The sapphire foil box complements the soft blue satin on which the bottles rest.

Should you decide on giving perfume, it is well to remember that the chemistry of a person's skin changes the scent. So best play it safe and add to the lady's supply of her favorite perfume. After all, for the average girl, there is real luxury in being able to be lavish in her use of her special essence. And the new touch will be amply provided by the perfume's Christmas packaging.

Teenagers' Parents Lacking In Firmness

CINCINNATI (AP)—Misguided parents are blamed by Traffic Court Judge Frank M. Gusweiler for many traffic violations by teenagers.

"Rather than deny children's demands for the family car, these weak-kneed parents permit them to tear over our highways," he said. "The old-fashioned father who told his children what they could do has been succeeded by yes men bearing a distinct resemblance to a mouse."

Turkey Tempter: Combine cooked elbow macaroni, condensed mushroom soup thinned to sauce consistency, diced turkey, cooked lima beans and chopped pimiento. Pour into casserole. Top with buttered bread crumbs and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 30 minutes.

Banish Circles Beneath Eyes

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Most women are occasionally troubled with circles under the eyes. The condition may be due to lack of sleep, eyestrain, insufficient fresh air, or water.

Should circles persist despite efforts to improve your daily routine, it would be advisable to consult your doctor. However, if the circles are caused by some minor neglect, there is a simple remedy.

This treatment stimulates circulation and relieves tension around the eyes. For it you will need a package of Roman camomile and a roll of three-inch gauze.

Make bags from five-inch lengths of the gauze and place one teaspoonful of the camomile in each bag. Then steep two bags in a cup of hot water.

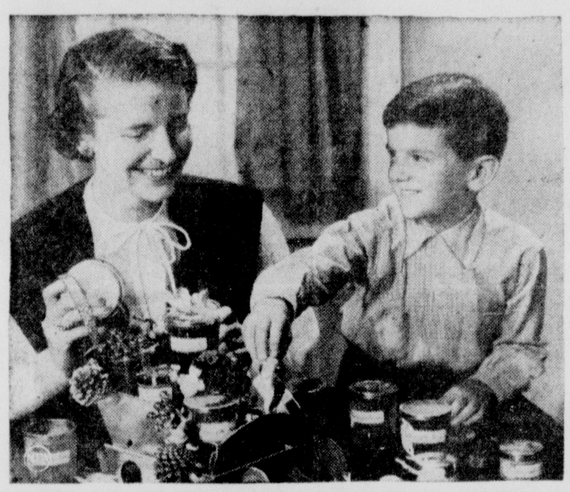

Meantime, apply your eye cream or tissue oil and take the beauty rest position: reclining with feet higher than head.

When the bags have steeped for five minutes, remove them from the water and allow them to cool until they are comfortable to the touch. Then apply one over each eye; cover with a dry cloth and rest until the bags are cold.

Daily treatment for a week should bring excellent results. Use fresh bags each day.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Homemade Spreads Make Family Gifts For Christmas

HOMEMADE JELLIES make a perfect gift for someone at Christmas, and it's fun for the whole family to prepare the gift.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

No matter how up to date Christmas becomes, it can never be warmer than it is old-fashioned. Which takes us right to our Georgia friend, Julie King. She's a master hand at jelly making and everyone likes to receive gaily decorated jars of homemade jelly and jam under the Christmas tree.

Pineapple Jam
(Yield: 6 medium glasses)

Two and one third cups (No. 2 can) crushed pineapple, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 3¼ cups sugar, ½ bottle liquid fruit pectin.

Combine crushed pineapple and lemon juice in a large saucepan. Add sugar and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in liquid fruit pectin. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover with 1/8 inch hot paraffin.

Cranberry-Grapefruit Jelly
(Yield: 8 medium glasses)

Four and one half cups sugar, 2 cups canned grapefruit juice, 2 cups canned cranberry juice, one 2½-ounce box powdered fruit pectin.

Measure sugar and set aside. Measure juices into large saucepan. Add powdered fruit pectin to juices and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim off foam with metal spoon, and pour quickly into glasses. Cover jelly at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin.

Home And Health Deserve Gifts

Gifts for the home that combine beauty and practicality with a dash of luxury run the gamut from deluxe tape recorders to new contour electric blankets. For the person who totes a 35 millimeter camera everywhere, a projector (upper left) is a thoughtful gift. To please the practical girl and still get in a note of romance, blanket (lower left) carries message, Good Night, Darling. The hostess on your list will welcome this modern electric brass chafing dish (upper left center). It is also available in contemporary and regency designs. As the utmost in enduring luxury, sterling silver tableware (lower left center) is a lasting gift from the family to the family. This pattern features balanced place setting idea—pieces curve toward the plates. A gift that promises fun for the whole family is a tape recorder (upper right center). Portable shown here features push button control, two operating speeds. An automatic radio (lower right center) will help the sleepy head find getting up less distasteful in the morning. This one comes in ivory or maroon plastic with gold trim. Electric blankets (right) have had contour shaping added. They are available in twin bed size with one control, and in double with one or two controls.

By FLORENCE V. HARTEN
NEA Staff Writer

The most imposing items destined for a place under the Christmas tree are those in the gifts-for-the-home category. If your budget is not too tight you can select from an infinite variety of gifts that are both practical and luxurious. Or, the family can pool its resources for one special gift to Mom or Dad.

The man of the house would be impressed with a de luxe tape recorder or, if he owns a 35-millimeter camera, the latest in projectors. Consider workshop equipment if he spends his Saturdays in the cellar. If he seeks thorough relaxation after a hard day, a contour chair might be a happy choice. For the scholarly type, an expensive reference book is a consideration.

New Recorder

Among the new recorders is a portable with two operating speeds that reduces tape-threading to slipping the tape into an open slot. Latest in projectors is one that permits you to put the slides in right side up. Its exclusive ejection feature allows easy removal of the slides. This projector has a four-inch lens.

The gift for the lady of the house could easily be one that the whole family will enjoy. If she has been longing for sterling silver, there is something very new in patterns, the balanced place setting idea—pieces curve toward the plate. Or perhaps she would be pleased with an electric chafing dish that's available in modern, regency and contemporary designs. In each, the pan and cover are of brass, with wrought-iron legs for the modern and brass legs for the other two styles. An extra warming pan turns the dish into a double boiler.

For almost any member of the family one of the new contour electric blankets should be appropriate. For any of the feminine members a soft wool blanket whose band carries the message, bonne nuit, cherie, would also be fitting.

For The Sleepyhead

The contour blankets are available in twin-bed and double-bed sizes, with single control. The double-bed size is also available with two controls. The message-bearing blanket comes in delicate pastel colors.

Also right for just about anybody but perhaps a particular joy to the sleepyhead of the family would be an automatic radio. One model is just 12 inches wide, fits nicely on a night table and comes in ivory or maroon plastic to blend with all woods.

Winter Blossoms Give Spark To Christmas Legend

By STERLING SLAPPEY
AP Newsfeatures

GLASTONBURY, England—There is a Christmas legend in this Somerset town about Joseph of Arimathea and the hawthorne bush which grew from his staff 1900 years ago.

The bush blooms today in honor, the people say, of Joseph and the birthday of Christ.

In winter when no other plants are growing or showing life the Glastonbury Thorn, "The Holy Sword," has small white flowers along its branches and it is filled with green leaves.

Why should this lonely plant behave so strangely?

Here is the story of the thorn. Some of it is Biblical fact and some is legend.

The Bible tells us that when Jesus Christ was crucified his body lay exposed and Joseph of Arimathaea came to bury him. He was an honorable man, all writers agree, but just who Joseph actually was is a mystery.

Matthew said he was wealthy, Luke said he was a member of the Sanhedrin. John said he was a secret disciple of Jesus.

Whoever he was and whatever his reason for burying the body of Christ, there remains this stoutly believed legend of his later life.

The legend says he came to Britain in 60 A. D. with 12 disciples and on Wearyall Hill, near Glastonbury, drove his hawthorne staff into the ground, probably as a monument to his arrival.

Then Joseph constructed a wooden church at Glastonbury—the first Christian Church in Britain. Years later he died and his body was buried nearby.

Joseph's staff grew and flowered until it became a large bush. A fanatical soldier slashed it down with his sword in 1539 but a small cutting from the mutilated plant was taken to the yard of the church Joseph founded.

That is the plant, now a 15-foot bush, which flowers twice every year—not just once as normal plants do.

The flowering every May is because of the weather.

The flowering every Christmas season—the legend says—is in honor of Joseph of Armathaea and his kindness in attending the body of Jesus Christ and bringing the Christian faith to Britain.

GIANT STATUES give emphasis to the Christmas scene in the work of Lorezo Ferri displayed at Rome, Italy. The picture shows one of the nine statues in the group. The children at its feet give perspective on the great size of the figure which represents one of the magi or kings who visited Jesus soon after His birth. Ferri, the sculptor, has specialized in sacred art for 30 years. He worked on the large nativity scene for years. He has pictured Mary sitting placidly holding the infant Jesus in the doorway of a humble stone dwelling. St. Joseph and the Persian, Ethiopian and Indian kings with their pages are pictured in attendance. (AP Newsfeatures)

Christmas Stockings For Your Pets

AP Newsfeatures

Fido, Tabby and Bobo the parakeet charm your household all the year. So why not remember them at Christmas time? Hang a stocking for each at the fireplace and watch how your little animal family will purr, chirp and wag their appreciation for your thoughtfulness. Animals get bored with plain old routine just like people do and they need a respite from daily dullness.

There are little red net socks, bulging with everything to delight your pet, available at pet shops, super markets, drug and hardware stores. A dog gets a play-slipper, nylon brush, bones and flea powder, while the cat finds catnip and a little mouse to while away time on his paws. The parakeet will be joyous with a little ladder, jingle bells and a special dinner. The canary stocking is full of juicy morsels and playthngs, too.

Turkey Macaroni Salad: Combine cubed turkey, cooked macaroni, chopped pickle, chopped pimiento, and salad dressing. Toss together lightly. Serve in lettuce cups. With it serve hot rolls and deviled eggs.

For Her Gift, Know Your Lady

These Christmas gifts for women all have a lasting value. They'll be kept and treasured for years because they're practical as well as pretty. Petal pink nightdress and peignoir (left) have flower motif as trim. White nylon embroidered jonquils are scattered across the waist and down the front of the gown. Motif is repeated on neckline and front of peignoir. For the girl who's fond of reading in bed on chilly winter nights, there's a nylon souffle embroidered sleepsweater (upper left center) that ends just below the waist. Shell watch (upper right center) becomes conversation piece when closed, dependable timekeeper when snapped open. Musical compact (lower center) is slim, flat, has rhinestone trim. Open, it plays a popular tune. It also has place for powder and lipstick. Orlon sweater (right) in pastels and deep colors is scaled to the youthful figure of any age.

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

It's relatively easy to pick out a Christmas gift for a woman. If you're a woman, give her something you'd like to have for yourself. (She may give it back to you for your birthday.) If you're a man, give her perfume, a compact or a cookbook. So you see, you only thought you had shopping problems.

Seriously, shopping for a woman can be quite a problem unless you think it all out before you start the actual trek. A knowledge of a woman's likes and dislikes is essential. And to some degree, so is a knowledge of her present possessions in order to avoid the well-known duplication.

Special Gifts

Once you've decided on the general category, you'll find the stores bursting with beautiful gifts in every price range. If she's a compact collector (and most women are) give her a really unusual one this year. When she opens it, it will tinkle out a pretty tune. Closed, this long, flat, sophisticated case has musical motif picked out in rhinestones. It will hold her own powder and lipstick. And she shall have music as long as she keeps the mechanism wound.

If you're going to give lingerie (women love it!), make it something unusual, like a sleep-sweater. This is nylon souffle, is embroidered and frilled. She can read in it on chilly evenings, then go directly off to sleep in it. And, of course, it washes and dries just like all nylon does.

An orlon sweater is a gift that any woman with a slim and youthful figure will thank you for on Christmas morning. If you pick one with classic styling, she'll get countless wearings from it since it will hold its shape and softness through any number of washings. She'll welcome the fact that she needn't block the sweater, either, or handle it as if it were gossamer.

Conversation Piece

A Swiss shell watch has watch inside shell and snaps open for quick and easy reading. As a handbag timepiece, it's a conversation piece but it can also be worn as necklace by attaching chain or ribbon.

For that one touch of fur, you can put your money into mink, but it needn't be a coat. (Unless you insist, of course). It can be any one of the many fur items you'll find in stores this year: little collars that tie on, flowers with rhinestone centers, belts, ascots, muffs. Many of these small fur pieces come in other furs: leopard, ermine, white mink.

School Will Keep In Spite Of Weather

WINTHROP, Mass. (AP)— Come rain, hail, snow or sleet school will keep open this year in Winthrop.

School Supt. Orrin C. Davis said he will not sound the "no school" signal this year because schools opened late and the time must be made up. Parents may use their own discretion in keeping primary graders home on stormy days.

Memo to apartment-dwelling career girls: If Christmas shopping has deflated the budget and you still would like to do some entertaining . . . serve a party buffet supper. For your main dish choose a casserole using macaroni, noodles or spaghetti. These foods are inexpensive themselves and they will help make expensive foods go further. You can have a delicious casserole meal at low cost. With it serve a simple tossed salad, hot rolls and crisp relishes. Sherbet and coffee will be fine for dessert.

Habit Of Writing 'Xmas' Improper, Lacks Reverence

Christmas is a sacred word, a beautiful-looking word, too. And it should always be spelled in full—even though the abbreviation, "Xmas," wasn't used irreverently in its original sense.

"Xmas" was first used centuries ago by early Greek scholars, in whose language the New Testament has been handed down to us. In the Greek alphabet "X" means the same as our "Ch." The Greek word for Christ is 'Christos."

Consequently, "X" was used for Christ — "Xtian" for writing Christian — and "Xmas" for Christmas.

In many ways "Xmas" does seem to be the way out. Christmas card designers, for example, always spell "Merry Christmas" in full—although those with a cheerful wish for the New Year may say "Holiday" or "Season's Greetings" just to include both Christmas and New Year's Day.

The important thing, where Christmas cards are concerned, is that so many of us like to write friendly messages on them. After all, there's no need to leave that empty space empty. Then without thinking, we begin by writing, "Just wanted to tell you about our plans for Xmas . . ."

When Canary birds were first exported from the Canary Islands for pets during the 16th Century, Spain tried and filed to maintain a monopoly of the trade by exporting only males.

Hat-Making Caps Fun-Filled Party

Children's holiday parties can be fun without becoming nerve-wracking for the adult onlookers. All one needs do is plan challenging but relaxing projects for the youngsters. Making their own party hats appeal to children in the six to eight-year-old group. This happy twosome (above) is sporting a Santa's cap and a cone star cap which they have just made. In the inserts, the boy shows his jester's cap (left) and his poinsettia hat (right). His friend is wearing a fringed cap.

By FLORENCE V. HARTEN
NEA Staff Writer

Children's parties are much likely to be successful (for both the children and their mothers) when activities are planned carefully for them.

Once they have had their ice cream, cake and candy, the youngsters are usually bursting with extra energy. With a good plan, you can curb that energy.

For children in the six to eight-year-old group, making their party hats should prove a pleasant occupation. A prize to the creators of the prettiest, loudest, funniest—and neatest— hats would be in order, of course.

In addition to crepe paper in bright colors, the children will need colorless nail polish, pipe cleaners, gold and silver metallic dust, paste, cotton, Christmas balls, tinsel, needle and thread and silver stars.

Fringed Cap

You might assign a couple of the children to make one of the following: fringed cap, Christmas tree hat, cone star hat, poinsettia hat and Santa's cap. The directions for each hat follow:

Fringed cap—Cut paper 15 inches deep in direction of paper's grain by 22 inches, or desired head size. Cut one long edge into fringe one inch deep with the grain. Cut opposite edge into fringe 7 inches deep. Fold the short fringed edge back 2 inches, gather hat together just below the long fringe and tie. Brush tips of fringe with lacquer and sprinkle with gold dust.

Christmas tree hat—Cut a strip of paper 15 inches with the grain by head size. Fold an inch and a half back on one long edge; then fold over again, making a double cuff at the bottom. Paste up back seam, gather open edges together at top with needle and thread. Paste two silver stars back to back over 3-inch pipe cleaner and sew to top of hat. Loop silver tinsel around hat and catch at intervals with small Christmas balls.

Cone star hat—Cut a 20-inch square, fold in diagonally and roll into a cone with folded edge at the point. Make cone fit head and trim off uneven edges. Trim with silve stars.

For the pompom: cut a strip of paper 3 inches wide by 24 inches, in half lengthwise, cut open edges into fringe 1 inch deep, gather folded edge and tie tightly into pompom. Brush fringed tips lightly with lacquer and sprinkle with silver dust.

For Christmas

Pionsettia hat—Cut a strip of paper 16 inches deep with the grain by head size. Turn an inch and a half up, then turn back again making a double cuff at the bottom. Divide top into six pointed petals 7 inches deep. Paste back seam up 6 inches. Gather below petals and tie. Attach small Christmas balls to the tip of each petal. Flute top of cuff by stretching the paper between thumb and forefinger of each hand.

Santa's cap—Cut two pieces of paper 15 inches with the grain by head size. Place one over the other for double thickness and stitch 2-inch-wide strip along edge of crown. Cut opposite edge into fringe 3 and a half inches deep, then paste seam together to form a cylinder. Gather top of hat below fringe and tie with spoolwire. Cover with a strip of cotton. Fold fringe down to side of cap and sew to side.

GREETINGS — The Saar post office will issue this new stamp before Christmas. The design, from a fresco in the convent of Monte Cassino, Italy, depicts St. Benoit sending St. Marius out to found new convents of the Benedictine order. Proceeds from the stamp will be used to repair the Benedictine Abbey of Tholey, in the Saar.

Cows Explore Asphalt Jungle

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Three cows came to the city to graze the other day but failed to find any grass in the asphalt jungle where they were rounded up before a downtown crowd on the way to work.

The three fugitives were part of a herd of 21 which escaped when a semi-trailer skidded into a ditch and overturned near a packing plant.

QUESTION GIVES ADVICE

GARDEN CITY, Kas. (AP)—This city's "safety week" greeting to jaywalkers was a black-bordered card handed out by the Kayettes, high school girl's organization.

"Where," it asked, "do you want your remains taken?"

The holiday season often brings with it unexpected guests for meals. If you are suddenly faced with the problem of serving a meal you hadn't planned, it needn't ruffle you. Keep a good supply of canned meats, condensed soups and vegetables on hand. And make sure that you have macaroni, noodles or spaghetti on your cupboard shelves. Then, when you must cook for unexpected company on short notice, you can concoct a delicious main dish in a jiffy.

Santa Can't Miss This Gay Felt Stocking

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

The night before Christmas — and what Santa could resist filling this gay felt stocking, decorated with holiday touches? No chance of a mix up, either with the owner's name written on the cuff in glittering sequins.

For a wonderful pre-Christmas gift, which will do duty each Yuletide for years to come, make a special stocking for each child on your list, following these directions from your local sewing center:

You will need 3/8 yards of red felt, mercerized thread to match, and a 10 by 12 inch piece of white felt for the cuff. Scraps of colored felt for appliques and assorted beads and sequins will provide the basis for the decorations.

First cut a pattern, marking measurements as shown on brown paper. Use your pinking shears to cut the felt and cut two strips, 1 by 5 inches, for a loop at the top.

Make the pattern for the cuff and use pinking shears to cut.

Then let your imagination go — using your scraps of felt, cut trees, stars, angels, jingle bells, candy canes and horns.

HER VERY OWN . . . Every child will welcome a gay felt Christmas stocking, easy to make at home.

Make your own designs or use magazine pictures for patterns. Stitch down, or attach with beads and sequins. It is necessary to complete the decorations before putting the stocking together. Fill in spaces between with star-shaped sequins.

Use a continuous row of sequins to make a name on the cuff.

Now stitch together the edges of the stocking, leaving the top open. Join the edges of the two strips, fold to make a loop and pin to outside of stocking back. Sew the side edges of the cuff together, and slip over the stocking, shorter side up. Matching the edges, pin and stitch to stocking top, catching the loop in the back.

Then hang on a nail over your fireplace, and let Santa take care of the rest.

It's False Economy To Be Sparing With Perfume

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Most women wear heavier, more costly fragrances during this time of year than during the milder weather. When the weather is warm, they are inclined to be lavish with their applications of cologne and toilet water. But so many tend to be sparing with their more precious scents in the winter months.

While this is a natural tendency, it can be carried too far. It really is a waste to apply a fragrance in the morning and allow your bouquet to dwindle to nothing by afternoon.

If you are going to wear perfume, wear it effectively. Use enough that it will be noticed without giving offense. To do so, you will need to add a bit more after four or five hours.

Some careerists keep small bottles of perfumes in their desks. Unfortunately, these fragrances are not always the same as the ones they use at home. Changing perfumes in midday is not a wise idea. There is a chance that the mingling of the two scents will have unpleasant consequences which you will not notice.

Furthermore, it is much smarter to have a particular scent associated with you.

With so many purse flacons available today, there is no reason why you cannot have your favorite fragrance with you at all times. If you do not want the bother of transfering a small amount from your dressing table bottle, you may be able to purchase the perfume in a totable size.

One of the well-known perfume houses has just introduced a new scent called "Wind Song" in several sizes, including two that would fit nicely into a purse. In addition to a tiny purse dispenser that holds a bit more than one dram, there is a quarter-ounce size in an antiqued gold bottle that is not too bulky for the average handbag.

Girl (above) is about to put a purse-size flacon of her favorite perfume into her purse. She realizes she will need a touch-up every four hours.

New York Municipal Recordings Filed

NEW YORK (AP)—Recordings of historic events in New York City, including City Hall receptions of the last 20 years and speeches by presidents and mayors, are to have a new permanent home. Space for the discs is being prepared in the Raymond V. Ingersoll Memorial Library in Brooklyn, and "anyone with a serious purpose" may have access to the records.

Shrimp Newburg: Mix 2 egg yolks, beaten, 3/4 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, dash nutmeg and dash paprika in top of double boiler. Cook over boiling water until thickened, stirring constantly. Add 1 cup cooked shrimp and heat thoroughly. Serve over French-fried noodles.

Give A Gift Of Learning

AP Newsfeatures

These days just about everyone in the family learns to typewrite.

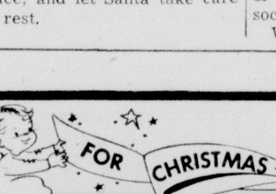

But just like Dad's borrowed razor—everybody leaves care of the machine to the other guy.

A new Christmas portable will last longer if these tips suggested by Stella Willins, former world champion typist and member of a research bureau (Royal), are observed:

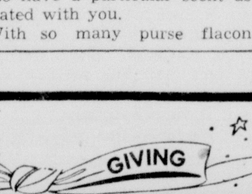

1. Locate the typewriter on a desk or table where it always is ready for use. Put a cover over it to keep out dust.
2. Before erasing, move carriage over so erasure grit will fall on to dust-protecting shields.
3. Use denatured alcohol for cleaning feed roll.
4. Use a bristle-type brush to keep the type clean.
5. Don't keep papers under the machine. They may catch in it.
6. After cutting stencils, feed a soft blotter through the machine about a half dozen times to absorb oils and chemicals.
7. Treat your typewriter to a good checkup by a professional repair man occasionally.

'Ware Christmas 'Slugs And Nixies;' 'Season's Greetings' Are At Stake

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

When you stroll down to your corner mailbox to send off your greeting cards, you'll set into motion one of the most complicated pieces of machinery in existence: Uncle Sam's postal service.

By the time a single one of your cards has reached its destination, a total of 17 postal employees will have handled it. The load of Christmas cards and gift packages is handled right along with the regular and commercial mail. These are some very good reasons for the post office slogan: "Mail early for Christmas."

Last year, from Dec. 1 to 25 alone, 5,800,000,000 pieces of mail were delivered. Enough to fill a train of 60-foot mail cars reaching from Washington, D. C., to Chicago, Ill. And this year, the post office is expecting even a heavier volume of mail.

This Christmas shopper keeps her holidays from becoming hectic by dividing cards and packages into three lists: overseas, out-of-state and local delivery. She mails early for each, sending packages ahead of cards. Thus, she's sure of timely delivery.

They Will Get There

If the Christmas cards you take to the corner are correctly addressed and each stamped with a three - cent stamp,. they'll get there. You can even pen a personal message inside, something you can't do at the two-cent rate.

The first man to get your Christmas card is the collector who takes it from the green box and stuffs it into a sack for the trip to the main post office. Another man loads the sacks onto a handtruck that goes to the sorting room. Here, the envelopes are all faced the same way for cancellation.

During facing process, all air mail, special delivery, tiny envelopes, slugs and nixies are sorted out. A slug is a fat letter that won't go through the cancelling machine. And a nixie is a letter that has been returned unclaimed.

The canceller is the fourth man to handle your card. After cancellation, a fifth man takes the cards to another section for sorting by local, state, major cities and foreign countries. Then the mail gets a second sorting.

The Way It Goes

Out-of-town letters are bundled by destination and tossed into pouches. These pouches are closed and locked at train time. A mail truck driver trundles the pouches onto the dock for the trip to the station. They're loaded here, unloaded at the destination and moved into the out-of-town post office. Here, they get primary and secondary distribution, pouching and delivering to stations.

Finally, the carrier comes trundling up the street with his load of Merry Yuletide greetings and a pair of aching feet. He, as number 17 in this chain, unloads your card and it's up to you to do with it what you will. Maybe you like to decorate the mantelpiece or tack cards on the wall. He doesn't care. But he and a lot of other postal employes would like to get down on their collective knees and beg you to mail all packages by Nov. 15 for overseas, by Dec. 5 for out-of-state, by Dec. 10 for local delivery.

On Christmas cards, it's Dec. 1 for overseas, Dec. 15 for out-of-state, and Dec. 18 for local delivery.

Ate 14 Sacks Of Peanuts At Game

CHILLICOTHE, Mo. (AP)—A local civic club sold 3,500 sacks of peanuts for charity.

One youngster said he cooperated by eating 14 sacks of peanuts at a night football game. Asked if that didn't give him a tummy ache, the boy said "naw." He ate three more sacks of goobers the next day, he said.

How To Choose Christmas Gift Perfumes

By VIVIAN BROWN
(AP) Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Perfume is often the gift choice of the last-minute Christmas shopper, casual friend, bewildered husband.

It is a sure-fire hit with any woman—if the scent appeals. If it doesn't —she might just as well have been presented with a jar of branch water.

The idea then is to select a fragrance that will meet with the approval of the recipient and if possible to send her into ecstasies. You can't do it by dashing up to a sales counter and asking for "a good bottle of perfume" or "the best perfume you sell" or "a nice fragrance for a married woman." Perfume is too expensive to be a grab bag purchase.

There are many factors to be considered for this all-important selection. Here are some to keep in mind:

1. The safest idea for ascertaining her favorite brand is to ask her or have someone else ask her. If you want to surprise her you'll need to be subtle in gathering your information. You might say: "A girl who sat next to me at lunch was wearing that perfume you used to be crazy about. What was it again?" (But she'll probably be suspicious, anyway).

2. If you only have a small sum to spend, don't try to get the biggest bottle for that amount, unless you know it is a good buy. Select the scent she'll like, then buy your dollar quota of it.

3. A woman usually wears perfume to please the man in her life. So lacking any other yardstick in making your selection, choose a scent you like. Chances are if it pleases you, it will please her. But take the trouble to make a fair appraisal. Don't ask the sales girl to give you a whiff of one scent and then settle for that.

4. Keep her type in mind. Little girls are likely to prefer the more subtle scents. Big girls may go in for more exotic fragrances. A light aroma is the best choice for any girl when in doubt.

5. Be sure to choose your perfume at a reliable store where an exchange might be made if necessary.

6. Another key to scents preference might be her favorite flowers. If she is partial to roses, carnations, gardenias, lilacs, lily of the valley, she's probably adore the flower bottled for her dressing table.

7. If she is a perfume collector she'll adore a new scent, preferably in an exquisite bottle.

Coyotes Regarded As Friends To Man

TOPONAS, Colo. (AP)—Coyotes are now finding a friend in western ranchers who once shot them on sight. The ranchers are posting "Coyotes Protected," signs says Audubon Magazine.

The change of attitude results from the discovery that coyotes help keep down mice, gophers, moles and rabbits.

The rodents have destroyed as much as one-third of the hay crops and have cut the livestock carrying capacity of the ranges by as much as one-half.

Hurry-up Supper: Mix 4 ounces cooked elbow macaroni with a 1-pound can of baked beans, catsup, brown sugar and prepared mustard. Pour into casserole and top with frankfurters or slices of table-ready meat. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) until heated through.

Returned Missing Spectacles By Mail

LAURENS, S. C. (AP)—Farmer C. W. Madden searched high and low for his glasses, with no luck. Then the postman delivered them, postmarked from Kansas City, Mo.

Madden recalled that he had sold a basket of peaches to a tourist family several weeks earlier. They found the glasses in the bottom of the basket, along with four three-cent stamps that just paid for the return postage.

Crickets' chirps have surprising carrying power, says the National Geographic Society. One cricket barely an inch long sounds a note audible for almost a mile.

FOR BETTER HOMES — BUILD-REPAIR-REMODEL — FOR BETTER LIVING

ON THE HOUSE

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

The Do-It-Yourself movement among householders seems to be just getting up steam. According to one industry estimate, 2¾ billion dollars are being spent this year by handymen for lumber and other building supplies — another half billion for paint, brushes and wallpaper. The total is rising yearly.

Because you have decided to repair those rickety back steps, build your own garage or fix that dripping faucet, you have the business world worrying out loud—and incidentally, for your benefit.

Paint dealers, lumber supply houses and other merchants are wondering if all this material we buy as amateurs, with free instructions thrown in, is going to offend their old customers, the contractors. This question has been summed up by Building Supply News in a report to the trade, as follows:

"If you promote 'do-it-yourself' will you bite the hand that feeds you?"

To shorten a long story, the answer is that our enthusiasm for improving our homes actually is creating jobs for the contractors.

"Very few contractors," says Building Supply News, "want to build a set of porch steps. But start a man out to build his own steps—or sell him some ready-made—and soon the whole porch will need a face-lifting. If the dealer has made a friend of the homeowner, he will get first crack at selling the materials for the porch remodeling—and a golden opportunity to suggest names of competent mechanics to do the job. Very little contractor trade is lost this way; a lot is created."

* * *

Distributors and retail dealers are acting on this advice, if you have noticed. A lumber company in Tulsa, Okla., for example, converted itself into a building material department store. All of its wares are arranged in convenient racks to appeal to the looker as well as the buyer. Like selling potatoes, scrap plywood (handy sizes for the handyman) is stacked in one department under a sign: "Plywood Shorts, 10 cents per pound."

A cash-and-carry pickup store was established by a Staten Island, N. Y., materials dealer, with a one-way auto route through the yards—Drive In Here—exit on a side street—past the cashier's window.

A Sioux City, Iowa, lumber dealer keeps a Handy Andy on hand in his yards as a trouble-shooter for any amateur who decides the job is going to be too much for him. This contractor Handy Andy not only gives with the know-how, but stands ready to finish the job when needed.

Information for do-it-yourselfers is being so widely published that corners of ye old iron-monger's shop resemble a book store. Working drawings and instruction folders make up sizable libraries. One power tool manufacturer (Delta) recently submitted 36 booklets for review. These publications cover everything from "Getting the Most Out of Your Lathe" to all the things you can make in a home workshop.

In fact, the do-it-yourself idea is being reduced to such understandable recipes that many women with new circular saws are now running circles around us so-called men of brawn. Last spring there was a do-it-yourself show in New York. Every third person visiting the show was a woman. One buxom housewife, buying plans for a coffee table, was asked "Is your husband going to build this?" To which she replied: "I'm going to make it myself. He's not the type."

More than 60,000 persons paid 75 cents a head to see that New York show. It was so popular that William S. Orkin, the originator, has had the name "Do-it-yourself-Show" registered at the patent office. He now is preparing a national show to be held on Chicago's famous Navy Pier from Oct. 23 to 31. Orkin anticipates a gate of more than 100,000 for the Chicago show and already has Boston and Philadelphia on his schedule.

The PLIOTRON FURNACE AIR FILTER
Traps 400% More Dirt

HOW IT WORKS
The PLIOTRON is built with a new shredded plastic material which contains a lifelong electrostatic charge. When air passes through the PLIOTRON, an additional electrostatic charge builds up — the way it does when you run a comb through your hair. This attracts tiny dust particles the way the "electrified" comb picks up bits of paper.
This principle can never fail to work—and there are no moving parts, no fancy installation. Just install the PLIOTRON as you would install any other air filter.
